

CARTER PICKETED IN ATLANTA — Atlanta — Jimmy Carter walks past a picket holding a sign "No Hitler for President," on his way to a rally in downtown Atlanta April 13. About three dozen pickets, led by Rep Hosea Williams, picketed the Carter "welcome home rally in Central City Park. Another sign said "No slip of the lip, the truth came out." (UPI)

U.S. Black Caucus Blasts Carter's 'Ethnic' Remark

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The Congressional Black Caucus last Thursday sent the following telegram to presidential candidate Jimmy Carter in response to his statements on social and economic integration of neighborhoods:

Dear Mr Carter
The members of the Congressional Black Caucus are stunned by your reported statements supporting the maintenance of "ethnic purity" in neighborhoods and opposing the federal government's "deliberately (trying) to break down an ethnically oriented community - by injecting into it a member of another race."
This is a regressive and unfortunate view of our present housing patterns and of rights of minorities in our society. It is not, as you suggest, the "natural inclination of people" to live in segregated neighborhoods. It is a well documented fact that racially segregated communities in the North and in the South have been created with the active assistance of the federal government and of state and local laws.

This so-called "natural inclination" to self-segregation is particularly indefensible when it infringes on the rights of others to enjoy all benefits of our society. Residential segregation produces school segregation, inhibits contacts for job opportunities as well as a vast array of other benefits which flow to the better neighborhoods. When you say that "to build highrise, very low-cost

Committee Approves Hollow-Points Here

Several black spokesmen were unable Tuesday to convince the Raleigh Law and Finance Committee not to approve the use of hollow-point bullets by the Raleigh Police Department.
In addition to other spokesmen, the Rev. W. W. Finlator, pastor of Pullen Memorial Baptist Church, Councilman Bill Knight, Raleigh Police Chief Robert E. Godwin, and Rev. Leola White, addressed the committee.
Knight told the committee, "We are concerned about a type of arm which may make the officer a judge and executioner."
In his remarks to the committee, Chief Godwin countered arguments from black leaders that the hollow-point is unduly damaging to a person shot with it. "I've found that...medical experts vary very little in their opinion of the damage done," Godwin said.
He said he was seeking to increase the stopping power of the bullets used by his department and concluded that the new bullet selected is a "middle-ground" bullet.
Telling the committee that he has never had to shoot anyone since he has been an officer, Godwin said, "I have a great deal of compassion for my fellowman and would hate to have to shoot." But he said he has more compassion for his officers and the citizens than he does for the "criminal" population.

Godwin opposed the assertions that the new bullets are an affront to the black community. He said, "Both blacks and whites are entitled to the maximum protection that we can give."
Councilman Ronald Kirschbaum, chairman of the committee, agreeing with the decision to use the new bullets, said the use of police weapons should be kept to a minimum. "But when they (police officers) do (use weapons), they need something that will accomplish the task."
Ralph Campbell, president of the Raleigh-Wake Citizens Association, said, "The kind of crime that is killing police officers has not been happening in Raleigh...so why do we need to move toward a police state." During his address to the committee, Campbell stressed several times that he believes the new bullets indicate a move toward a

Editor's Note: The CAROLINIAN is resuming its publication of the Crime Beat with this edition of the newspaper, following a tremendous number of personal inquiries and telephone calls for its reinstatement, as was stated in the original editor's note regarding the column. Persons wishing to keep their names out of The Crime Beat should not become involved with the Raleigh Police Department, thereby getting their names on the police blotter, from which all of the material for The Crime Beat is gathered.

JUVENILE IN RAPE ATTEMPT

A Raleigh juvenile was arrested and charged with attempted rape of a 16-year-old Raleigh girl about 6:45 p.m. Sunday, according to Raleigh police reports. According to police, the alleged incident took place in a playground at 400 Watkins. The girl's father reported the alleged incident. They reside on Addison Place. The name of the arrested juvenile was not released by police.
(See CRIME BEAT, P. 3)

Senators Nix Plan

National Black News Service WASHINGTON — The Senate recently rejected attempts to keep college students off the food stamp program or to require them to work in order to be eligible.
The two proposals were part of a package of amendments sponsored by Sen. Carl Curtis (R-Neb.) to toughen on Agriculture Committee bill aimed at reforming the massive food stamp program. Currently, the program serves 19 million people at an estimated cost of $5.8 billion a year. It is expected to cost $6.3 billion in the fiscal year 1977.
The Senate voted 63-31 to defeat the first Curtis proposal to make any college student ineligible for food stamps. The second proposal to require that students register for work and actively seek jobs to remain eligible for the program, was defeated 61-35.
Two other amendments by Curtis were also defeated. One was to define elderly as someone 60 or older, instead of 65, and to force mothers with children 6 to 12 years to seek work if they are in the food stamp program.

NAACP MEET

The monthly meeting of the Raleigh-Apex chapter of the NAACP will be held Sunday, April 18, at RICH Park in Method at 4 p.m. The executive board will meet at 3. All interested persons are cordially invited to attend.
The Rev. Dr. C. W. Ward is president of the chapter and Ms. Ella L. Jackson is secretary.

Senators Nix Plan

National Black News Service WASHINGTON — The Senate recently rejected attempts to keep college students off the food stamp program or to require them to work in order to be eligible.
The two proposals were part of a package of amendments sponsored by Sen. Carl Curtis (R-Neb.) to toughen on Agriculture Committee bill aimed at reforming the massive food stamp program. Currently, the program serves 19 million people at an estimated cost of $5.8 billion a year. It is expected to cost $6.3 billion in the fiscal year 1977.
The Senate voted 63-31 to defeat the first Curtis proposal to make any college student ineligible for food stamps. The second proposal to require that students register for work and actively seek jobs to remain eligible for the program, was defeated 61-35.
Two other amendments by Curtis were also defeated. One was to define elderly as someone 60 or older, instead of 65, and to force mothers with children 6 to 12 years to seek work if they are in the food stamp program.

Fathers Will Be Tracked

National Black News Service WASHINGTON — The Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare has ordered the release of Social Security numbers to help track down fathers who have abandoned their families. Runaway fathers cost taxpayers more than $1 billion annually in the support of their families.
(See FATHERS, P. 2)

Activity Urged For US Women

National Black News Service EAST LANSING, Mich. — A black professor of urban and metropolitan studies at Michigan State University has urged black women to become active members in the management process of higher education to make it more responsive to their needs.
Dr. L. Eudora Pettigrew urged this course as she addressed a conference on New Directions For Black Women in Higher Education in Racine, Wis., recently.
The women attending the conference also announced the formation of the National Association of Black Professional Women in Higher Education.
According to Dr. Pettigrew, who was elected vice president of the association.
(See US WOMEN, P. 2)

Appreciation Money Check Won By City Man

Andrew J. Thorpe, 312 Heck St., was the only winner of this week's Appreciation Money. His name was listed in the Hudson Belk advertisement on the Appreciation Money Page. Also listed on the page were the names of William R. Wingate, 2908 Frinks St. and Mrs. Louise G. Adams, of 618 Jamaica Dr. Wingate's name was listed in the Terry's Furniture Co. advertisement and Mrs. Adam's name was listed in the One Hour Martinizing advertisement.
(See APPRECIATION, P. 2)

"Health Endangered" Confined In Rare Facility

★★★ Barnes Says Backers Of Reagan 'Eliminate' Blacks

THE CAROLINIAN

North Carolina's Leading Weekly RALEIGH, N. C. THURSDAY, APRIL 15, 1976 SINGLE COPY 20c

City Sanitation Workers VOTE TO STRIKE

★★★★ No Black Mormon Priests Ordination Is Voided

July 6 Set For Strike

BY JAMES ANDERSON
The city's sanitation workers, at a mass meeting Tuesday, voted unanimously to strike following the July 4th weekend. Leon Manning, chairman of the Sanitation Grievance Committee, said the strike would occur only if the Raleigh City Council did not respond to the demands of the workers. July 6 has been agreed upon as the strike date.
The vote followed recommendations of the City's Wage Review Board last Friday that the city council (1) make a complete classification and wage study of all employees; (2) increase the life insurance of all employees to an amount equal to one year's salary or

SUSPECT'S CONDITION CRITICAL — Baltimore — Charles Hopkins, a suspect in a shooting spree which left 1 dead and five wounded at temporary City Hall is loaded in to a waiting ambulance. Hopkins was reported in critical condition at University Hospital April 13. (UPI)

Officials Reverse Baptism

PORTLAND, Ore. — The officialdom of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon) has declared null and void the ordination of a black priest, Larry Lester, 22, of Vancouver, Wash., who was baptized recently in a motel swimming pool, and then ordained to church's priesthood by Douglas A. Wallace, 46, also of Vancouver.
The ordination took place on the eve of the church's annual general conference in Salt Lake City. According to Wallace, it was done to force a revision of the Mormon tradition toward blacks.
Blacks are accepted in the church, but it denies them the priesthood. But all-white male members are expected to hold a variety of degrees of the priesthood after the age of 12.
"While the doctrine of the church does not specifically exclude blacks from attaining the position of priest or any other subsequent position, the practice in actuality has been such that no black has ever received priesthood before today," Wallace said. He explained that exclusion of blacks from the priesthood is based on a legacy that Cain was black.
In a statement issued in Salt Lake City, headquarters of the church, officials said one black man held the Mormon priesthood more than a century ago.
The statement was attributed to the public communications director for the Vancouver Stake (similar to a diocese) said, "Douglas A. Wallace has not been authorized, at this time, to confer the priesthood of the church on any person. If Mr. Wallace acts without this authorization, any so-called ordination he gives will be null and void."

Changes At Shaw Apartments

BY PAT BRYANT
Board members of Shaw Foundation Inc., met with 50 tenants of Shaw Apartments Tuesday and made changes in rent collections, the collection for use of excess utilities and other fees.
The meeting was called when tenants rallied to stop the eviction of George Mitchell by the apartment managers Monday and Tuesday. Monday, about 20 tenants met at the residence of board member Judy Miller and told of many tenants who were being carried to court and evicted because they could not pay rent and excess utility usage. Some tenants complained of having electric bills in excess of $100 per month.
Manager Larry Stokes explained at the meeting, that rent collection policy was that all utilities, fees and rent for the previous month had to be paid prior to a tenant being able to pay rent for the current month. Stokes also said that if the current month's rent was not paid by the 7th of the month, that eviction proceedings would begin.
The Shaw Apartments complex was contracted to be built under the James E. Cheek administration of Shaw University as relocation housing for families of the Southeastern Urban Renewal area and families that are forced to move because of housing code enforcement in other sections of the city. Under the contract, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development sets rents, fees charged to tenants and collection policies. HUD also pays the complex approximately $11,000 subsidy monthly to pay the difference in the basic rent of $88 paid by tenants or 25 percent of the tenants income up to $225 per month for a 3-bedroom apartment. The "get tough" rent collections policy was dictated to the complex's non-profit owners after the HUD paid off the insured mortgage of the apartments. The mortgage was in default because of not having enough money to pay rising taxes and utilities. Several complexes throughout the

City Sanitation Workers

BY JAMES ANDERSON
The city's sanitation workers, at a mass meeting Tuesday, voted unanimously to strike following the July 4th weekend. Leon Manning, chairman of the Sanitation Grievance Committee, said the strike would occur only if the Raleigh City Council did not respond to the demands of the workers. July 6 has been agreed upon as the strike date.
The vote followed recommendations of the City's Wage Review Board last Friday that the city council (1) make a complete classification and wage study of all employees; (2) increase the life insurance of all employees to an amount equal to one year's salary or

Barnes' Charges Made In Durham

BY ALEXANDER BARNES
DURHAM — From the time Chuck Neely, believed to be the operator of the Reagan campaign in the state, told the delegates at the Durham County Republican Convention, held at the courthouse last Saturday morning, that he was supporting Ronald Reagan because he was a conservative and that he was the only Republican who could be elected president, until the convention closed, about four hours later, Reagan supporters dominated the convention.
Black delegates and Ford supporters were shouted down consistently on practically every issue. The first uproar began when delegates invoked from the Hillside Precinct were not seated, due to a recent inviolate rule, that the deadline for accepting delegates would be enforced.
Alexander Barnes, chairman, Hillside Precinct, fighting for the seating of his delegates, told the convention that the delegates were elected according to the plan of organization. He said, however, that he did not send the names in, due to the fact that an organizing committee was appointed and that Miss Carol Morris and Jack Staunton, known Reagan supporters, along with him, had been named to the committee.
He further said that Miss Morris, first vice president and member of the Githens Jr. (See "ELIMINATE," P. 2)

LEON MANNING

Fathers Will Be Tracked

National Black News Service WASHINGTON — The Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare has ordered the release of Social Security numbers to help track down fathers who have abandoned their families. Runaway fathers cost taxpayers more than $1 billion annually in the support of their families.
(See FATHERS, P. 2)

Country Withdraws Invitation

National Black News Service LAGOS — Nigeria has cancelled its invitation to Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger to visit the country during his trip to Africa later this month.
While there was no specific reason given for the cancellation, it is believed that the unstable condition here was the main contributing factor. Just two months ago, there was an

Faces Murder Rap

A Raleigh man is being held without bond on a murder charge which stemmed from a domestic quarrel Sunday evening, according to Raleigh police.
The man, Girth W. Nealey, 43, of 557 New Bern Ave., was charged with fatally shooting his mother-in-law, Ms. Cora Mae Bynum, 50, of the same address.
Lt. B. C. Nipper said the alleged shooting took place in the residence after Nealey, his wife and Ms. Bynum became involved in a quarrel. He declined to discuss the nature of the quarrel because it will be entered as court testimony.
Ms. Bynum was dead on arrival at a local hospital. She was shot one time in the chest with a pistol, Nipper said. He also said that Nealey's wife was shot one time in the mouth during the quarrel.
(See SHAW APTS., P. 2)

CRIME BEAT

Editor's Note: The CAROLINIAN is resuming its publication of the Crime Beat with this edition of the newspaper, following a tremendous number of personal inquiries and telephone calls for its reinstatement, as was stated in the original editor's note regarding the column. Persons wishing to keep their names out of The Crime Beat should not become involved with the Raleigh Police Department, thereby getting their names on the police blotter, from which all of the material for The Crime Beat is gathered.

SIGNS MULTI-YEAR CONTRACT — Cleveland, Ohio — It was all smiles for Paul and Beverly Warfield last week after it was announced that Paul had signed a multi-year contract with the Cleveland Browns. Warfield returns to Cleveland where he played before joining the Miami Dolphins in 1969. He became a free agent when the WFL folded. (UPI)

Appreciation Money SPOTLIGHT THIS WEEK HEILIG-LEVINE FURNITURE CO. For Top Quality Furniture And Appliances