After 27 Years Murder Truth Out?

National Organization Will Honor Retiring 'Mrs. NAACP'

Questions Asked Of The FBI

BY ALEXANDER BARNES
A recent expose, the result of a continuous investigation by the NAACP, of the heinous murder of Harry T. Moore and his wife, in their rural home located in Mims, Fla. on Christmas night, 1951, seems to substantiate the newsman's reason for saying to the FBI, "Don't you think you can get more information from the sheriff's office and staff than you can get sifting that sand in Moore's little orange grove?" It was quite evident that the sifter was marking time.

Coadjutor Nominee Unnamed

Named as coadjutor nominee of the Episcopal Diocese of N. C. or a list of 14 contenders is Rev. Arthur J. Calloway, local black rector of St. Ambrose Church, on Darby St.

The 162nd convention of the Episcopal Diocese adjourned last weekend without electing a bishop coadjutor. The presiding bishop of the diocese, Thomas Frazer, had requested that a coadjutor be appointed to serve as his successor even though he has no immediate plans to resign.

The meeting, held in Raleigh at Christ Church, adjourned with the naming of a coadjutor left with Bishop Frazer. In order to be elected bishop coadjutor, a nominee must obtain a majority of both the clergy and lay unit votes of the convention. Thus, at the start of the session, it would have taken 55 clergy and 35 1/2 lay

Carolina Action Holds Grits Luncheon Here

Carolina Action's Senior Citizens United in Action held a grits luncheon Monday, May 22, at the Council on Aging building, 616 Tucker St., for the Wake County delegates. The topic for discussion was Medicare.

Senior citizens are concerned about two changes coming up for legislation: reinstatement of the dental care program, which was cut in the July 1977 session, and raising the income eligibility level for Medicaid recipients from $141 to $177 a month, as allowed by the federal government.

"We senior citizens are elderly people. If anyone needs to be remembered, it's us," said Gus Williams, chairman of the luncheon. "I eat grits every day, 'cause I can't chew on something hard," stated one elderly woman.

Man Seeking To 'Dethrone' Three

BY ALEXANDER BARNES
DURHAM — According to political soothsayers, there is more behind the right to push two black members of the city council and one white member than meets the eye.

The move was allegedly started by Harry E. Rodenhizer the only white member of the Durham School Board, who has been very critical of both bodies, for what he likes to term, "looseness and black dominance." He has been very unsuccessful in getting his ideas over with the school board. He eyes the city council with some misgivings, due to the influence of the blacks on it. He termed a one-man army to unseat the three council members, when it was learned that they were in trouble about their tax matters. He circulated a petition, asking for the recall of Harris, the white, Clarence Brown, and Mrs. Thornton, both black. He alleges that he had little or no trouble in getting the required 10,000 registered voters to sign the recall petition. He reported Monday morning that he had 10,200. However, he said, since he had until Wednesday to submit the document to the Durham County Board of Elections, he would continue, so that in the event some names might be contested, he

Fleming Explains Position

BY CHARLES R. JONES
Managing Editor
Dr. John W. Fleming, interim president of Shaw University, in an interview with this newspaper early Wednesday, said, "We are not ready right now to release anything about our financial condition. We are almost sure that we will get the money, since we have some money in Washington right now."

Dr. Fleming said the university does not want any publicity on the alleged existing lack of adequate funds to pay, in full, the faculty and staff members at the 113-year-old institution, "because it could jeopardize our chances of securing the funds as fast as we would like to," he stated.

The situation concerning the failure of Shaw to pay off the April salaries of its employees came to light last weekend. Although Fleming is alleged to have said Monday that representatives from the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) did not come to the campus as hoped, to discuss the institution's finances, and had not contacted the school to indicate when they might come, he seemed confident Wednesday that the faculty and staff members involved will be fully compensated for their services, although he did not (See SHAW'S FLIGHT, P. 2)

Panther Leader's Bail Up

OAKLAND, Calif. — The bail for Huey P. Newton, Black Panther leader in a murder case, has been increased $75,000 as a result of a brawl a week ago in a small community on the west coast.

Newton, who fled the United States and went to Cuba in 1974, while racing charges in the killing of an Oakland prostitute, is now free on a total bail in Oakland of $155,000, and in Santa Cruz, on a bail of $60,000, this is where the alleged fight took place.

The higher bail was set last Friday by Superior Court Judge Martin Pulich, and an hour later, Mr. Newton was released after raising securities to cover the new bond. The Black Panther leader, who is now 36, is charged with (See PANTHER, P. 2)
