Tax Filing Extension Must Be Requested

GREENSBORO — This year, almost 60,000 North Carolinians will file their Federal income tax returns after the April 16 deadline with permission from the Internal Revenue Service.

These taxpayers, unable to get everything together to send in on time, will request an extension to file, Bill Lovelace, Chief of the Taxpayer Service Division said. "We will give the requestor an extra 120 days in which to file the return," he stated. "This means the deadline for that return will be August 15, 1984."

Lovelace warned that 120-day extension is for FILING the return, not for the payment for any taxes due. He said that if additional taxes are owed, they should be paid with the request for

Roland Scott Speaks To Kiwanis In D.C.

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Dr. Roland B. Scott was a guest speaker at the March 27th meeting of the Shepherd Park Kiwanis Club in Washington, D.C. Dr. Scott's subject was "How Sickle Cell Disease Affects the Individual and the Community."

Dr. Scott described the comprehensive services that are available at the Howard University Center for Sickle Cell Disease, located at 2121 Georgia Avenue, N.W. The program of this Center includes research effort, patient care, education and counseling. The Center provides services for more than 500 children and adults who live in the Metropolitan Washington area. The Center also maintains an outreach community-oriented program which utilizes a mobile unit for providing testing, counseling and referral services. At the conclusion of his talk, Dr. Scott was presented with a Certificate of Appreciation by Mr. John M. Williams, president of the club. Dr. David L. Stratman is the program chairman of the club.

Agencies Buy Project Notes Of $1 Million

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Project notes totaling more than $1 million representing 102 public housing agencies and 105 issues were sold April 3, Warren T. Lindquist, assistant secretary for public and Indian housing of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, announced recently.

Proceeds of the note sale, said Lindquist, will be used to reimburse the federal government for funds advanced to public housing agencies, to provide additional construction funds, and to refund maturing notes for low-income housing projects.

The average interest rate on the project notes was 5.946 percent, with six-month notes averaging 5.691 percent and the year notes averaging 6.144 percent. Bids ranged from 5.49 percent to 6.25 percent. Maturities on the notes, to be dated May 1, ranged from three months to a year with an average maturity of 9.3 months.

The average interest rate for the more than $2 million of project notes sold on March 6, having an average maturity of 9.0 months, was 5.606 percent. Six-month notes averaged 5.399 percent and the year notes averaged 5.821 percent.

Graham Watt Visits S.C. State Campus

ORANGEBURG, S.C. — Graham E. Watt, marketing representative in the mining-marketing department of Shell Oil Co. in Houston, Texas., recently visited the South Carolina State College campus. Dr. Graham is the author of "Management Leadership Styles (Autocratic vs. Democratic) in the Petroleum Industry."

While at the college as part of the Black Executive Exchange Program, Graham discussed his specific company duties. He is responsible for the development and negotiation of long-term coal supply contracts, marketing studies and coal supply and demand studies. He is also involved in special studies to evaluate new marketing or business opportunities.

The Charlotte, N.C., native was educated at Woodbury University in Los Angeles where he earned an undergraduate and graduate degree in business administration. He received his Ph.D. from Golden State University in communications and human relations. Dr. Graham and other members of the program bring the real world to the classroom, said Macgrine A. Cassell, instructor of business administration at the college. "They also bring a role model to students. It is a positive addition to our classroom presentations," he added.
