Letter To The Editor

BY JOSEPH R. OVERBY, SR. Chairman, The George Washingtons

This letter is written and mailed to our president, Ronald Reagan; Jesse Helms, John East and our governor of North Carolina, Jim Hunt. The George Washingtons think 23 cents to 28 cents for a postage stamp and increases in packages in 1984 which Postmaster General William Bolger is asking for in these critical times is a shame and disgrace on this administration. It has only been a short time since Bolger raised the stamps from 18 cents to 20 cents. In my opinion, that money went to raise postal salaries. Bolger said a few months ago that the post office had plenty of money on hand and would not need any raises. He selects the election year to do this. We also mailed one to Postmaster General

William Bolger. The purpose of this raise is to lease and operate private jets to fly its executives across the country. We agree with Sen. William V. Roth of Delaware who said this leasing sends the wrong signal to postal customers. If our postmaster general allows this, he should be impeached from his office an $82,900-a-year salary plus all fringe benefits. Anybody can operate a business increasing prices every year or two without competition. It takes a smart man to operate a business and not increase

We are inflated 10 times since 1935—we need to stop all inflation and start deflation. William Bolger needs to cut the postal stamps back to 15 cents and packages accordinglyand cut all postal salaries 25 percent-then they would be making about three times the money as other people doing their same kind of work. A federal employee is hot worth any more than a bank teller, a city, county or state employee. understand the postal employees start off at $24,000 a year plus all fringe benefits and if they have night and on Sunday, about $42,500 a year. Seventy percent of their salary is for retirement-all on an unbalanced federal budget of about $13 trillion. Congress needs to lease out the post office to five good businessmen, or better than that, to the George Washingtons, for about $5 million a month and make a

Applied Scholastics employs a precise handling for this obstacle also. An example of the success of applying Hubbard's principles comes from Richard M. Henley of Northland Environmental, a Burbank, Calif., company. He reports, "Using Hubbard's basic study techniques, we found profound jumps in productivity among staff once we located and got handled their basic misunderstandings on the product and procedures. These staff stopped making costly mistakes which, in turn, produced significant... and costsaving... reductions in personnel turnover, insurance and executive over-
