

Ms. Lucy Johnson Speaks At First Baptist Sunday

Women's Day will be observed at First Baptist Church, 101 S. Wilmington St., on Sunday, Oct. 21, beginning with the 11 a.m. worship service. The theme for the occasion will be "Christian Women: Caring and Sharing." Ms. Lucy Brandon Johnson will be the speaker.

Ms. Johnson was born in rural Wake County and was reared in a Christian home by her parents, Ollie and Bradie Brandon.

She was educated in the public schools of Wake and Caswell counties. She earned her B.S. in home economics and interior design at North Carolina Central University, Durham. She attended the University of North Carolina at Greensboro for her graduate degree.

While living in Okinawa, Japan, Ms. Johnson was employed with the school system. When she returned to North Carolina, she taught in Harnett and Roberson counties for several years, but later returned to her native Wake County. Still committed to excellence, she returned to North Carolina Central University where she was awarded the master's degree in school administration.

Ms. Johnson has been an educator for 26 years. She has served in the capacity of teacher, department head, transportation supervisor and administrative assistant.

Her achievements and affiliations are varied and numerous. She has not only served on many church and educational committees, but is also active in many community and civic groups.

Ms. Johnson's other affiliations include: member of First Baptist Church, Deacons Board, Group 12, Ward-Ingram Gospel Choir, National Association of University Women, North Carolina Association of Educators, Association of Classroom Teachers and the North Carolina Vocational Association.

She is currently employed in the Wake County School System.

Ms. Johnson is married to Ephraim Johnson. They have two daughters, Korri and Ava; a son-in-law, Eddie, and two grandchildren, Afton and Brandon.

Ms. Rosa Bazemore and Ms. Paula Foster are co-chairpersons of the Women's Day program. An evening program is also planned for Woman's Day. The program begins Sunday at 6 p.m. The public is invited to attend. Dr. Charles W. Ward is the pastor.

Dr. C. W. Anderson of the United Institutional Baptist Church, Greensboro, was the Women's Day speaker recently at Martin Street Baptist Church. The topic for the annual celebration was, "The Christian Woman: A Reflection of Faith, Hope and Courage."

Church Groups Can File For S.S. Exemption

GREENSBORO—Under recently enacted legislation, churches and qualified church-controlled organizations that for religious reasons are opposed to the payment of social security taxes may file an election of exemption from such taxes, the Internal Revenue Service said.

Generally, churches must file their elections by Oct. 30. The application is filed on Form 8274, Certification by Churches and Qualified Church-Controlled Organizations Electing Exemption from Employer Social Security Tax. The election may be made by churches, conventions, or associations of churches, elementary and secondary schools that are controlled, operated or principally supported by a church or convention or association of churches, and certain church-controlled tax-exempt organizations.

The election exempts a church or organization and its employees from employer and employee FICA taxes and applies to all services performed on or after Jan. 1, by employees of the electing church or organization. The election is permanent and cannot be revoked, the IRS said. Any FICA taxes paid in 1984 will be refunded without interest to the electing church or organization. No refund will be made unless the church or organization agrees on its claim for return to return to each employee the portion of the refund attributable to FICA tax withheld from the employee's wage. No refund will be made directly by the IRS to an employee. The claim for refund may be made on Form 843 with the Form 8274.

Employees earning $100 or more during the year from the electing church will be subject to self-employment tax, the IRS said.

UMC Women To Be Featured Sun. On ABC-TV

NEW YORK, N.Y.—Two United Methodist women will be featured in an ABC-TV special edition of "Directions," titled "The Other Rebellion," on Sunday, Oct. 21.

The women, members of First United Methodist Church, Dallas, Texas, are profiled in documentary vignettes on the hour-long program about women in society. Featured will be Elizabeth Jasmine, a single policewoman who has adopted a child of another race. She tells about her struggle with social service agencies in the adoption process and the problems that arise, both because she is single and because she and the child are of different racial backgrounds.

Beverly Brooks, who owns an insurance company, tells about rearing her child as a single parent and the struggle with male attitudes toward her as a businesswoman. Ms. Brooks is chairperson of the First Church's Commission on the Status and Role of Women. Ms. Jasmine is a member of the commission.

The hour-long "Directions" special, to air at 12:30 p.m., will be moderated by George F. Will, ABC news analyst. Panelists are Elizabeth Holtzman, district attorney for Brooklyn, N.Y., who, as a congresswoman in 1976, introduced a bill to extend the deadline for the ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment. Other panelists are Midge Decker, head of the Committee for the Free World and a critical writer of the women's liberation movement; the Rev. Elizabeth Scott, director of the Justice for Women program of the National Council of Churches of Christ and a member of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, and Carl Degler, educator, historian, Pulitzer Prize-winning author and one of the founders of the National Organization of Women.

Campus Crusade For Christ Has Internat'l. Celebration

SAN BERNARDINO, CALIF.—Thousands of Campus Crusade for Christ staff members around the world celebrated the interdenominational ministry's thirty-third birthday this week with two days of prayer. October 1981 is considered Campus Crusade for Christ's official "birthday" since it was in the fall quarter of that academic year that ministry founders Bill and Vonette Bright began working with college students at UCLA.

Campus Crusade has grown since 1951 into a diverse ministry working with a broad cross-section of groups in 150 countries and protectorates. Staff now number approximately 16,000 full-time and associate members, of dozens of nationalities.

LUCY JOHNSON

Dr. David Forbes Speaks To Martin St's. Group 6

Members of Group Six of Martin Street Baptist Church met on Tuesday, Oct. 2, at 8 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Keith, 712 Bunche Drive.

The devotional period led by Ms. Madeline Keith included the singing of the hymn, "Standing on the Promises," and the scripture from Romans 12:9-13. This was followed by a reading on "Love" and another hymn, "Take the Name of Jesus With You." In keeping with the monthly theme of "Love," Ms. Ethel Darden read another poem, and Ms. Allie M. Peebles read "Do All You Can," by John Wesley.

The hostess extended a welcome to all and announced that there would be no minutes read because this was a special meeting planned for Dr. Forbes to address the group on plans for 1985.

Dr. Forbes revealed the proposed organizational structure of the church in terms of major committees, activities and finances. During the question-and-answer period, much information was given.

Dr. Forbes stated that he wanted the input to come from church members, and his talk provoked much discussion.

Dr. Forbes thanked Ms. Keith for the invitation to share the Christian fellowship with the members of Group Six. He noted that because of the tremendous growth of the church, many other groups would be organized all over Raleigh.

The host, James E. Keith, took an active part in welcoming the pastor and asked some questions.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith served refreshments during the fellowship hour.

Ms. Allie M. Peebles is group reporter.
