

Chamberlain, Lightner Take Top Prizes In NAUW Baby Competition

The Raleigh Branch of the National Association of University Women recently sponsored a baby contest at the Tarboro Road Community Center.

With Ms. Naomi Horton presiding, the program began with welcoming remarks by Ms. Mildred Goodson, and prayer by Ms. Ella Perry. Following the presentation of personal gifts to each baby from his or her sponsor, Ms. Maxcine Perry presented the winning babies.

Those winning were Carlton Lacey Chamberlain, first place, sponsored by Ms. Winnie Lacey; Christopher Lightner, second place, son of Ms. Clair Lightner, sponsored by Ms. Lois Caudle; Verneda Tenyell Legardy, third place, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Legardy, sponsored by Ms. Merlyn Lytle; Jordan Holley, fourth place, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Holley, sponsored by Ms. Erma Tyson; Jamaal Rashad Edwards, fifth place, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Edwards, sponsored by Ms. Telza Perry.

Also, Derreck Mitchell, sixth place, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Mitchell, sponsored by Ms. Ella Perry; Harolynn Mallette, seventh place, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mallette, sponsored by Ms. Mary Mallette; Jessica Patrice Bailey, eighth place, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bailey, sponsored by Ms. Ava Bailey; Dekeila Nicole Perry, ninth place, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Perry, sponsored by Ms. Mildred Goodson; Constance Ivory Bodie, 10th place, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Bodie, sponsored by Ms. Anita Phillips; and Leshia Grandy, 11th place, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Grandy, sponsored by Ms. Maggie Holley.

Every participating baby received a savings bond. Because of the amount of money reported, the first and second place winners received more than one bond. Verneda Tenyell Legardy, the baby girl having the highest amount of money, was crowned queen along with the king, Carlton Chamberlain.

The closing remarks were given by Ms. Lois Caudle, president, who expressed sincere thanks to Conrad Carter for providing music during the program and to all parents, friends, and all persons who supported this endeavor in any way. She explained that the proceeds realized will be used to promote one of the basic aims of the NAUW, which is to encourage and stimulate higher educational standards and intellectual attainment by offering assistance and scholarships to young people.

The contest committee consisted of Ms. Almeda Glascoe, chairperson; Ms. Naomi Horton, co-chairperson; Ruby Fain, Telza Perry, Ms. Winnie Lacey, Maxcine Perry, Ms. Mildred Richardson and Ms. Mary Sanders.

"Gone With The Wind" Celebrates 50th Anniversary

The 50th Anniversary of "Gone With The Wind" provides a golden opportunity for releasing the film once again to the silver screen. MGM/UA is currently booking the classic in select theatres nationwide for Turner Entertainment Co. (TEC). TEC recently completed a major project by restoring the printing elements to the lustre of the feature's original quality.

"We realized the devoted fans of this academy Award winner would appreciate the rare chance to view the film in its original glory and splendor," said Roger Mayer, president of TEC. "So we began a limited theatrical campaign that continues to expand on a daily basis."

To date, the company has secured over 50 engagements, beginning with a gala theatrical premiere at Radio City Music Hall on January 30-31. According to Mayer, the two-day booking (featuring two evenings and one matinee) was a complete sell-out. After New York, five restored prints will travel to various celebrations and theatrical engagements around the country in such venues as the Los Angeles County Museum of Art, the Uptown in Washington, D. C., the Pittsburgh Playhouse, the Music Box in Chicago and the Castro Theater in San Francisco. (Tentative schedule attached.)

In addition to the domestic campaign, theatrical engagements will soon be firmed overseas. "Our goal is to honor "Gone With The Wind" by celebrating with as many fans as we possibly can reach, in theaters, on television and on home video," said Jack Petrik, chairman of Turner Program Services.

TEC is a subsidiary of the Atlanta-based Turner Broadcasting System, Inc. (TBS). TEC owns, operates and carefully preserves the world's largest film and television library.
