KNOW YOUR RIGHTS

You can see fingerprinting demonstrations, breathalyzer simulations and a video appearance by "McGruff," at the Museum of History Nov. 26.

In conjunction with the museum's new exhibit, "Your Constitution: Private Rights and Public Freedoms," several law enforcement agencies are sponsoring the free 1-5 p.m. program to offer citizens an opportunity to learn more about the federal and state laws that protect privacy and property.

Admission is free, and the program is designed for visitors of all ages. For details, call the museum in Raleigh at 733-3894. The N.C. Museum of History, an agency of the Department of Cultural Resources, is located at 109 E. Jones St., in downtown Raleigh.

CAPITOL PARTY

Begin your holiday season with the Capitol Christmas Party on Friday, Dec. 1. An evening of music, dining, dancing and grand prizes will kick off the year-long observance of the Capitol's 150th anniversary in 1990.

The gala celebration begins with a 6:30 p.m. reception in the Capitol's rotunda, followed by the 8 p.m. dinner dance at Raleigh's Marriott Hotel. Participants can dance the night away to the tunes of Bo Thorpe's big band sounds.

For details and reservations, call the Capitol in Raleigh at 733-4994. The North Carolina Capitol, administered by the Department of Cultural Resources, is located on Union (Capitol) Square in downtown Raleigh.

Great Quotes Motivate Success

(NU) - "Far and away the best prize that life offers is the chance to work hard at work worth doing."

As one of the thousands of quotations contained in a new book, "The Best of Success," (Great Quotations Publishing Co., 336 pages) edited by Mac Anderson, this telling advice by Theodore Roosevelt might give and insight and motivation to many who are too hesitant or fearful to assert themselves.

Like no other book, "The Best of Success Ideas" offers a clear, bright organized summary of more than 50 major success principles, all in quotation form. It is organized in alphabetic order with the first chapter entitled "Achievements" ("There are no gains without pains" - Benjamin Franklin) and the last chapter entitled "Wisdom" ("Knowledge comes but wisdom lingers" - Alfred Lord Tennyson). Other chapters include Persistence, Goals, Belief and Courage. An author index is also included for reference.

Is "Required Reading" "The Best of Success Ideas" is... a priceless treasure of the greatest words of wisdom ever thought, written and spoken," says Dr. Denis Waitlay, author of "The Psychology of Winning" and "Being the Best." "The Best" is the brainchild of Wynn Davis, an editor for Great Quotations/Graph Corp. of Lombard, Ill. Since its inception in 1982, Graph Corp. has become one of the nation's leading designers of corporate awards and customer and employee recognition gifts. Several key clients include AT&T, Anheuser Busch, McDonalds and Coca-Cola. Great Quotations is an international publisher of famous quotations on subjects for all occasions.

"Just like a slight twist of a camera's viewfinder can bring an object into focus, quotes often enable a person to easily understand an idea or concept" says Mac Anderson, president and founder of the company. "In addition, many sales executives prefer quotations that allow them to state their philosophy through the words of a famous person."

If you would like more information about "The Best of Success," write Great Quotations at: 919 Springer Drive, Lombard, IL 60148-6416 or telephone (1-800-535-2773).
