

At The Top Of The World

Twenty-four years ago, Debbie Allen was told to give up her dream. Today she's at the top of the entertainment world as dancer and director.

Page 9

Educational Goals

Carol Malloy, assistant director of the Pre-College Program has been named special assistant for student affairs at UNC School of Education, Chapel Hill.

Page 5

THIS WEEK

In 1966 NCAA Finals, the University of West Texas (El Paso) fielded an all-black starting five, the first time ever in major college basketball. They went on to defeat an all-white Kentucky team, 72-65.

THE CAROLINIAN

C. CULTURAL RESOURCES
NO STATE LIBRARY
103 E. JONES ST.
RALEIGH, NC 27601

RALEIGH, N.C.,
VOL. 50, NO. 103

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1991

N.C.'s Semi-Weekly

DEDICATED TO THE SPIRIT OF JESUS CHRIST

SINGLE COPY 25¢
IN RALEIGH
ELSEWHERE 30¢

Carver Street Shooting

Witnesses At Scene Counter Police Report

From CAROLINIAN Staff Reports
People at the scene during a drug raid where an unarmed man was killed by a police officer have challenged a preliminary report by Raleigh Police Chief Frederick K. Heineman who claimed that no one witnessed the shooting.

Carver St. on Nov. 8 when police swooped in on what was targeted by undercover and decoys as a crack house. Donald Turner says he saw Ivan Lorenzo Ingram with his hands above his head only seconds before Officer Vincent Kerr shot him.

before shooting. Nicole McQueen and Al Johnson, inside the house contend police shouted just one warning. Some people at the scene say they saw or heard part of what happened, disputing elements of the story presented to the Raleigh City Council's Police Affairs Committee Wednesday night.

According to the police version, a Raleigh police undercover officer, working with the Drugs/vice Squad and the Selective Enforcement Unit (SEU), worked the Oakwood Avenue area in an effort to buy drugs and arrest dealers. Between 6:20 and 6:30 p.m., the undercover officer drove up to 314 North Carver Street, where he saw "three-four people in the yard..." according to the report. While remaining in his vehicle, he purchased drugs from a black male in the group. When the agent left the address, he transmitted to the SEU that the buy had been made and from whom.

When the SEU officers, all wearing badges, blue caps and aprons with "Police" emblazoned on them, drove up to 314 Carver St., they quickly got out to approach the group of men in front of the house. One of the SEU officers, Kerr, "was responsible for covering the outer perimeter and

About 15 people were around 314

The Raleigh Police Department claims several warnings were shouted

Wednesday night.

to 314 North Carver Street, where he

When the SEU officers, all wearing

(See POLICE RAIDS, P. 2)

Robber Hits Hotel

Suspect Foiled At Two Banks

A man wearing a dark ski mask held up Days Inn at 6325 Glenwood Ave. last week and escaped with an undisclosed amount of cash after being foiled by two banks in unsuccessful attempts police think.

Raleigh police believe the would-be bank robber apparently succeeded later at the hotel. They believe the robber was the same man who attempted to rob two northwest Raleigh banks earlier in the day. At the banks, the man walked up to the drive-in windows and demanded money. The tellers refused.

Witnesses to the motel robbery told police the man was black wearing a dark ski mask and coat, and carrying a chrome automatic handgun.

Police said the man went to the night window with his gun and the clerk was at the window on the phone. The robber told the woman to give him all the money. She did as she was told. The man took the money and ran.

In related events: A man with a gun robbed Sav-A-Center store at 4031 Old Wake Forest Road of an undisclosed amount of money and escaped on foot.

The man was described as a black male wearing orange sunglasses, a blue toboggan, blue jeans and a brown coat, about 6-feet-4, 230 pounds.

According to the Raleigh Police Department the man approached the office at the front of Sav-A-Center and said, "I'm coming in." When the employees refused to let him in, he drew a silver automatic pistol and said, "I'll kill you." He then demanded money and was given an undisclosed amount of cash.

The employees said the man was calm and unhurried during the robbery.

VICTIM OF POLICE SHOOTING—The family of James Earl Bailey, 27, who was fatally shot by a police officer on the front porch of his parents' home in Los Angeles, has brought a multi-million dollar law suit against the County of Los Angeles. The office of the District Attorney found that the shooting was justified. The victim is wearing handcuffs. He was stopped while driving on suspicion of possessing or selling drugs.

Unarmed Black Killed By Police Seen As "Execution," Criminal

What is becoming an all-too-familiar drama in many areas across the country is being played out once again in a Compton courtroom in Los Angeles. An African-American family has brought a multimillion-dollar lawsuit against the County of Los Angeles and a deputy from the L.A. Sheriff's Department for the fatal shooting of their unarmed son.

James Earl Bailey, 27, was fatally shot by Deputy Steven Jaramillo in 1988 on the front porch of his parents' home as his father looked on in horror. The office of the District Attorney found that the shooting was justified.

A.D. Bailey, the father of the victim, through his attorney, Johnnie

L. Cochran, Jr., contends that the shooting was not only unjustified, but it was an "execution." All parties agree that Bailey was unarmed and that he had not committed a crime. He was stopped while driving by Deputy Jaramillo and his partner,

Allen Ripley, on suspicion of possessing or selling drugs.

According to reports, the deputies were able to complete a "pat search" without finding any drugs on the

(See UNARMED VICTIM, P. 2)

Inside Africa

New Plan Urges Debt Relief For Africa

NEW YORK, N.Y.—In a dramatic and electrifying speech that received a thunderous ovation at the United Nations, Rev. Dr. Leon H. Sullivan announced plans for an unprecedented "new partnership" in support of debt relief for sub-Saharan Africa.

Speaking recently at the first United Nations Day for Africa before 1,500 diplomats, governmental officials, corporate executives, civil rights and African-American leaders, educators, students and people from all walks of life, Rev. Sullivan said, "A new, historic partnership involving the first African-American Summit, the United Nations through its Economic Commission for Africa, the Organization for African Unity, and the African Development Bank will help ensure the success of our urgent movement to create a closer relationship between Africans, African-Americans and other friends of Africa."

The first UN Day for Africa was hosted by Javier Perez de Cuellar, secretary general of the United Nations, and co-chaired by Antoine Blanca, director general of the United Nations; Issa Diallo, executive secretary of the Economic Commission for Africa; and Rev. Sullivan, who also served as the initiator and presided over the extraordinary occasion.

During the African-American Summit convened by Rev. Sullivan in Abidjan, Ivory Coast, in April, the

2,500 delegates and observers concluded that the debt burden of sub-Saharan African countries was "a significant impediment to these countries becoming competitive."

Rev. Sullivan said, "It was in this context that we requested this unprecedented day at the United Nations devoted to Africa, during a recent meeting with the secretary general of the United Nations, at which time he so graciously agreed to host it."

(See INSIDE AFRICA, P. 2)

Willie Gary Gives $10 Million Gift To Shaw

Willie E. Gary, who credits Shaw University with giving him his first break in a legal career, last week made a pledge of $10 million—double the school's $4.5 million endowment.

The South Florida lawyer has earned millions as a malpractice and personal injury lawyer. "God has blessed me. I've won a lot of big cases and He has blessed me to be in a position to give," Gary said.

Mr. Gary said the $10 million will include a $1 million pledge he made to Shaw in 1989. He plans on writing a $250,000 check at Shaw's homecoming and the rest of the money will be paid in equal annual increments.

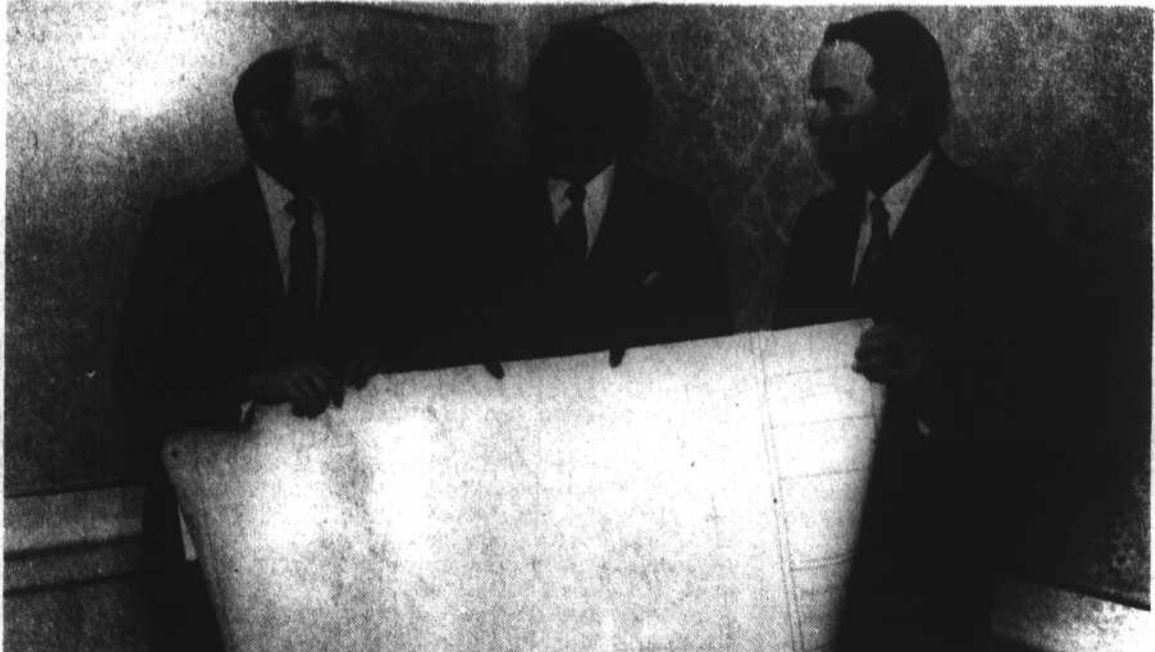

Shaw University, Dr. Talbert O. Shaw said, "This type of confidence says to the public that the trustees and the alumni feel strongly about the school and are willing to support it significantly."

Mr. Gary serves as chairman of Shaw's Board of Trustees. He came to Shaw at age 19 looking for a football scholarship. He is the son of a migrant farmworker. His break at Shaw ultimately sent him to law school at N.C. Central University.

WILLIE E. GARY

A $150-MILLION CAMPAIGN—Dr. Benjamin F. Payton, President of Tuskegee University, center, holds blueprint for the rebuilding of historic Collis P. Huntington Hall, recently destroyed by fire. The historic structure is one of several campus facilities scheduled to be rebuilt or renovated with proceeds from the school's newly announced $150-million fund-raising campaign. With him are two of the group of corporate and foundation officials supporting the drive, Craig Weatherup, President and CEO, Pepsi-Cola Company, left and Rand Arakog, Chairman of CEO, ITT Corporation. The two companies were co-hosts to a recent luncheon at the St. Regis Hotel in New York City where the announcement was made.