

SONGS OF CHRISTMAS — Delta Ensemble sings for annual Christmas breakfast on Saturday, December 21 at the Crabtree Marriott Hotel. The ensemble sang the music of the Christmas season as sorors brought gifts of money for the Method Day Care Center, gifts for the Wake County Department of Social Services, and school supplies for the Malindza Refugee Settlement in Swaziland, Africa. Pictured above from left to right, front row: Sopranos, Angela Smith Wall, Gloria Smith, Eleanor B. Mitchell, Marge Curry, Valjean Mitchell, Nell Hinton, Nettie Thompson, Hortense G. Fleming, co-chairman and Cheryl Costin, co-chairman. Second row, left to right, altos: Andria Ross Barrett, Acie Ward, Penny Thompson, Mary Jeffries, Alberta M. Levingston, Allie M. Peebles, and Genevieve M. Farmer. Seated at the piano is alto Ruby Boyd.

UNCF TELETHON—“Lou Rawls Parade of Stars” telethon to benefit the United Negro College Fund will be aired Dec. 28. The entertaining special will feature an array of stars and performances including the Hi Five. Approximately 51,000 students are enrolled in these 41 private, historically black colleges and universities.

Operation Desert Share Underway

The millionth pound of “Operation Desert Share” food was delivered to the Food Bank of North Carolina recently. “We never expected this amount of food from the Gulf War,” says Greg Kirkpatrick, executive director of the food bank. “When it started arriving last August, we were told we would receive several truckloads. So far 30 tractor-trailer loads have come in, and before it’s all over with we expect another 50.”

The influx of food comes at a good time for the food bank. Due to the tight economy, requests for food assistance are at an all-time high, and food-industry donations are down.

Operation Desert Share is the largest donation ever received by Second Harvest National Network of Food Banks. More than 150 million pounds of Desert Share food is expected to be donated by the end of February. Locally, the loads have included beef stew, barbecue beef, bacon, luncheon meat, macaroni, cake and biscuit mixes, grits, C-rations, Meals-Ready-To-Eat, canned vegetables, sugar, tea, juices and canned vegetables.

“Historically, the food industry is our primary partner in the mission of redistributing surplus food to the poor,” says Kirkpatrick. “Private food companies donate the bulk of the food we receive. But the Desert Share donation illustrates the role our government can play in positively affecting the lives of our nation’s poor and relieving unnecessary suffering. It’s a shame it took a war to mobilize these resources for these people. Sufficient funding for government food assistance programs is essential if we are going to begin to solve the larger problems of adequate employment, education,
