The Roanoke Island Garden Club meeting for its January program was entertained by Mrs. Tom Etheridge and Mrs. Walter Etheridge at the home of Mrs. Tom Etheridge, and had as special guests Mrs. J. H. Barach and the Misses Amanda, Annie and Natalie Etheridge.

Mrs. Georgia Harwood presented a paper of interesting and helpful information on the main topic for the program, "Indoor Plants and Gardening." Members of the club gave their own experiences with varied types of plants, some of which dealt with rare plants and at the close of the comments, Mrs. A. W. Drinkwater, president of the club, requested that at one of the spring meetings each member bring an unusual plant to the club showing an experience in indoor gardening which seemed unique.

The club's project for the month was that of planting dogwoods. Each member of the club pledged herself to plant one or more dogwoods on a public plot, or a front lawn and to urge others to do the same during the month of January.

During the business session those members of the club who were present and had not made their contribution to the Elizabethan Garden, did so, and expressed earnest hope that the project would go forward. The club is also ready to cooperate with the other clubs of the community in developing the pre-school playground which the Woman's Club still expects to push forward. The club members stated their interest in this project which was started last spring.

During the social hour of the afternoon the hostesses served coffee and strawberry shortcake, which seemed a pleasant forerunner of spring.
