ELIZABETH CITY, N. C. Member Federal Donnsit Insurance Corn A TRIBUTE TO A GREAT WOMAN OF TYRRELL

Columbia. - At the beginning of the New Year, as we look in retrospect at the many accomplishments brought about during the preceeding year, which have brought promise and joy to many hearts, our thoughts become somewhat bedimmed by the loss of one of our most respected, charming women, who has contributed much to the youth in our community . . . . Mrs. W. R. Spruill, more familiarly known as Mrs. Ida.

At the Christmas seasons of yesteryear, she would, for several hours daily during the entire month of December give her time and efforts in preparation for the annual Christmas pageants, held at the Columbia Baptist Church; with no thought of haste, and with the patience required that each child would be embued with the spirit of the occasion; to enthey were receiving. A pat on the praise from her gave the con-

Swain, and civic or private life where music was needed. When a music instructor in the school was sought by the patrons; having been fore most in this field, she was select ed for the position; which she been received here to the wed- diligently held as long as she

Mrs. Ida was small of stature barely five feet in height, bu in her dynamic personality she carried much recognition. Having come to the South, after her mar riage, from the state of Nev York; not too long after the Wa between the states; when feeling throughout the South was still in a bitter state towards the ther so called Yankees. In my imagin ation, I can feel the probable coldness with which she was wel comed to her future home, how ever, if such a state existed fo her, it was never told by Mrs Atlanta, Georgia Saturday night Ida. She, probably resolved to make the people of her adopted spectors in his division, which state know that she was looking contains the states of North Caro- to the future, and carried on ever with her strong determination.

Her ever ready willingness to help with any problem; anxious to give aid whenever occasioned, made her one of our outstanding women. She was pianist for the Baptist Sunday School for years, yielding to her students for needed experience, but was always pianist at the church until her companient with the organ which was played by her daughter, Mrs.

She leaves with us a wonderful at either Raleigh or Norfolk. on both days. Some outstanding example, of keeping youthful, by speakers in the Free Will Faith being useful, which she retained through her constant endeavors towards the upbuilding of the youth and the faith in the future.

JANUARY PROCLAIMED NATIONAL EGG MONTH

The month of January has been proclaimed National Egg Month by the National Egg and Poultry Board of Chicago, and it seems that Tar Heel homemakers will have occasion to celebrate.

State College extension specialists say supplies of eggs on local markets will be plentiful, the quality of eggs will be high and the price low.

Virginia Wilson, State College extension specialist in foods and nutrition, suggests getting more eggs into your family diets now that the suplies are plentiful. Use eggs in more ways, make those dishes calling for larger quantities of "the fruit of the hen."

A top hat is an egg dish - attractive, nutritious, and satisfying - that can be used as the main dish of a meal, as a meat substitute.

Top Hat Souffle

1 cup grated cheese 1 tablespoon butter

2 tablespoons flour

½ cup milk

3 eggs 1/2 teaspoon salt

Melt butter, add flour and salt; make a smooth paste. Add milk slowly, stirring constantly until sauce thicken. Remove from fire, add grated cheese and egg yolks, stirring until cheese is melted. While still hot, pour slowly into stiffly beaten egg whites, folding carefully with a spatula. Pour into an ungreased baking dish and bake 45 minutes at 300 degrees. To make a "top hat" on our souffle, draw a line with a caspoon around the mixture in the casserole one inch from the age. This forms a crease which when baking make a "top hat".

Serve souffle immediately after that precludes hateful or dreary speculations. You can't whittle, really whittle, and hate at the same time. You can't whittle and still be downright sad. And undoubtedly this is why a sight of people, in a simpler era than ours, used to get out their jackknives and whittle when there wasn't anything else to do--and, to be truthful about it, sometimes when there was. The facts may be only coincidental, but you are naturally bound to consider them, and the facts are that we once were a nation of whittlers, and comparatively untroubled. We took pride in our whittling, and, by gosh, we took pride in our citizenship. A man gave things some thought while he whittled. A man wasn't forever rushing off half-cocked to tackle a problem, personal or political, that deserved some mighty serious preliminary thinking. If you consult your memory you will recall that is was uncommonly hard to pull the wool over the eyes of a whittler. So the things they used will be no Marine Recruiter in to whittle were really only the this immediate vicinity.
