Columbia.—The officers and teachers of Malachi's Chapel Sunday School entertained the officers and teachers of Sound Side Free Will Baptist Sunday School at a turkey dinner at Carley's Cafe on Friday, March 25th at 7:30, with E. L. Mosley, superintendent as master of ceremonies.

The Rev. Joe Fort, of Ayden, publisher of Free Will Literature, guest speaker, used as his topic "Relation of Sunday School Teacher with the pupil; what the teacher can offer and how the pupil could respond". It was followed by a round table discussion on how to increase Sunday School participation and attendance; method of teaching to hold pupils attention and how to capture interest of older people. It was enthusiastically discussed.

Grace and benediction was given by the Rev. James A. Evans, pastor of both churches.

The dinner was occasioned by a contest between the two Sunday Schools as to attendance at the meetings of Sunday School Teachers and Officers Training School being held. The Sunday with less attendance was to furnish entertainment. Twenty five attended the dinner.

The white paint back of the stove is never as white as the rest of the room. A possibility is a washable wallpaper that comes in many styles for the kitchen. If you put this old-fashioned touch behind the stove, there's no need to keep it up to the whiteness of the ceiling.
