NOTICE OF SERVICE OF PROCESS BY PUBLICATION AND OF THE ISSUANCE OF AN ORDER OF ATTACHMENT IN THE SUPERIOR COURT WEST VIRGINIA PULP AND PAPER COMPANY, Plaintiff vs. H. L. DeHART, Defendant

Take notice that a pleading seeking relief against you has been filed in the above entitled action in the Superior Court of Dare County, North Carolina.

The nature of the relief being sought is as follows: To have and recover of the defendant the sum of $864.60 for the breach of a contract with the plaintiff dated June 5, 1956 for the sale and purchase of timber and sawlogs from the lands of the plaintiff situated in the County of Hyde, State of North Carolina, is that the defendant failed and refused to pay for such timber and sawlogs sold and delivered to him by the plaintiff and cut and removed therefrom.

You are required to make defense to such pleading not later than the 15th day of February, 1957, and upon your failure to do so, the party seeking service against you will apply to the Court for the relief sought.

The said H. L. DeHart will further take notice that in said action an Order of Attachment against the property of the said defendant has been issued on the 12th day of December 1956 and the following property attached:

- One Caterpillar Tractor, 4D, Serial No. 7U1504
- One G. M. Power Unit, Unit No. 4-5918, 86 Horse Power
- One Frick Saw Mill and Carriage, No. 1215C

And that the said Order of Attachment is returnable before the undersigned Clerk of Superior Court at his office as provided by Section 1-440-16 of the GENERAL STATUTES OF NORTH CAROLINA.

This the 20th day of December, 1956. C. S. MEEKINS CLERK SUPERIOR COURT, DARE COUNTY, N. C. T-12-21-4tc

WEDDING VOWS PLEDGED AT SLADESVILLE

MRS. PERCY GRADY MURPHY, JR., before her marriage to Mr. Murphy on December 27 at the Epworth Methodist Church at Sladesville, was Miss Sally Blane Credle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff F. Credle of Sladesville. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Grady Murphy of Louisburg.

CREDELE-MURPHY VOWS SPOKEN DECEMBER 27 AT SLADESVILLE CHURCH

Epworth Methodist Church in Sladesville was the scene on Thursday afternoon, December 27, of the marriage of Miss Sally Blane Credle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Fulford Credle of Sladesville, to Percy Gray Murphy, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Gray Murphy of Louisburg.

The Rev. Amos H. Stone of Swan Quarter, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony before a background of evergreens, palms, smilax, baskets of white flowers, and lighted cathedral candles. Mrs. Harold Lupton of Belhaven presented the nuptial music, with Carlyle Jones of Fairfield as soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an Arden original gown of Chantilly lace over satin with fitted bodice and filled-in yoke of tulle with lace collar, long tapered sleeves, bouffant skirt with back panel of alternating wide Chantilly lace and pleated tulle ruffles cascading into a cathedral train. Her fingertip veil was of imported illusion attached to a semi-crown of lace encrusted with pearls and French paillettes. A diamond-pearl lavalier, belonging to the bride's mother, was her only ornament. She carried a single orchid, showered with ribbons and lace.

Mrs. Leo L. Bishop, Jr. of Murfreesboro was matron of honor, and Miss Betty Gene Mann of Hampton, Va., and Engelhard was maid of honor. They wore dresses of ruby red crystallette, made off-the-shoulder with long bodice and bouffant skirt. Their headresses were of matching crystallette bands with nose veils. Their jewelry was single strands of pearls, and they carried nosegays of pink carnations tied with ruby red ribbon.

Miss Betty Blane Credle of Sladesville, niece of the bride, and Miss Betty Louise Bowers of Louisburg, niece of the bridegroom, were flower girls. They wore dresses of pink crystallette made similar to the honor attendants, with headresses of matching crystallette bands trimmed with small pink flowers. Their flowers were miniature nosegays of pink carnations tied with ruby ribbons.

Robert Murphy of Louisburg, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Groomsmen were Allen Credle of Sladesville, brother of the bride, George C. Parrish of Louisburg, cousin of the bridegroom, and Leo L. Bishop, Jr. of Murfreesboro.

Mrs. Credle, mother of the bride, wore a Dior blue street-length dress with accents of pale blue satin and rhinestone trim, with matching hat and black accessories; she wore a corsage of Better Times roses. Mrs. Murphy, mother of the bridegroom, wore a Dior blue street-length dress of embroidered satin, with matching hat and black accessories; her flowers were a corsage of Better Times roses.

Miss Mildred Spencer of Swan Quarter was mistress of ceremonies. For the wedding trip, the bride wore a toast brown suit with beige and brown accessories; her corsage was a yellow-throated orchid. The couple will make their home at 48 Buxton Avenue, Newport News, Va.

Mrs. Murphy attended East Carolina College in Greenville and was a member of Phi Omicron, home economics honorary society. She is a member of the faculty of the George Wythe Junior High School in Hampton, Va.

Mr. Murphy, who also attended East Carolina College, is connected with Bowers Construction Company of Raleigh.

CAKE CUTTING GIVEN FOR MISS CREDELE, MR. MURPHY Mrs. Alice R. Cann, Mrs. Edith Carawan, and Miss Mildred Spencer of Swan Quarter entertained at a cake cutting at the home of the bride Wednesday, December 26, immediately following the rehearsal of the wedding of Miss Sally Blane Credle of Sladesville and P. G. Murphy, Jr. of Louisburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray M. Spencer of Sladesville greeted the guests and invited them into the dining room, where they were served wedding cake by Mrs. Jeff Credle, mother of the bride, and punch by Mrs. Robert Murphy, sister-in-law of the bridegroom. The dining room was beautifully decorated with a Christmas motif of red, silver, and white.

THERE'LL BE MORE TROUBLE OVER 'CIVIL RIGHTS' ISSUE By BILL WHITLEY FIGHT. The Southerners won the first round of the bitter civil rights battle in Congress, but all agree that the 1957 war on the hot issue is far from over.

"Things don't look good at all from the long range point of view," according to Senator W. Kerr Scott.

"The Administration has the votes any time it cares to pick them up on a civil rights bill," Scott said.

PRESIDENT. In a strong statement opposing what he called a "determined effort" to enact "political" civil rights legislation, Scott said President Eisenhower has "worked both sides of the street on the issue."

All of the noise about civil rights legislation is "stirring up snakes," Scott said. "If they will just leave us alone in the South, we can work out our own problems. The ones who are making the most noise don't know how serious this thing is."

FUTURE. As this session of Congress progresses, Scott feels increased efforts will be made to enact some sort of civil rights program.

In all, the Tar Heel Senator feels that chances are fewer this year for stopping all civil rights legislation.

MIDDLE EAST. For the Southerners, there seemed to be no rest for the weary as Congress began moving into the new session.

Hot on the heels of the civil rights flare-up was the President's controversial Middle East proposal. As the President addressed a joint session Saturday, Southern Democrats sat grim faced.

The President had asked for a blank check, and the Democrats were leary about signing something that might bounce.

Many of them felt, as Senator Scott feels, that Secretary of State Dulles and the President himself have been too wishy washy about United States policy in that area of the world. To a large degree, Scott feels, the uncertainty of the policy made it necessary for the President to ask for what is really unnecessary authority.

NORTH CAROLINA WINS TOP TRAVEL AWARD IN MIDWEST

Citation for best travel news and photo coverage by a promotional agency in the United States in 1956 was won by the State Advertising Division of the Department of Conservation & Development. The award is made annually by the Midwest Travel Writers' Ass'n.

State Advertising Director Charles J. Parker was notified of the top award by Wake Franklin of the Chicago Times, president of the Midwest Travel Writers' Ass'n., who advised that the formal presentation will be made at the association's annual banquet in Chicago, November 3.

This is the second time the North Carolina Advertising Division has won the top prize for travel news in the United States, the first award coming in 1953. In 1954 the Advertising Division won second place in the judging for "most effective overall travel promotion of an area in the world." This year is the first that North Carolina has won in the photographic field of travel promotion.

Parker said the Midwest Travel Writers' awards are unlike any other and the most coveted. More than 30 travel editors throughout the Midwest render judgment by ballot on the basis of travel news and pictures received from promotional agencies throughout the world during the year.

"This was staff production. Every member had a part in it, but due particular credit are Miriam Rabb, Travel Editor; Bill Gulley, Photo Editor; and Evelyn Covington, head of the travel information service," the State Advertising Director said.
