

BAPTIST ACTIVITIES IN THE TOWN OF MANTEO

The first week of December is observed as the week of prayer for foreign missions throughout the Southern Baptist convention, and it has been observed by the mission societies of the Manteo Baptist Church. The woman have held prayer meetings each day under the direction of Mrs. David Pear-sall, Mrs. W. E. Cholerton, Mrs. Bruce Etheridge, and Mrs. George Quidley. The Wednesday meeting was combined with the regular prayer service, and under the direction of the pastor. A film strip portrayed what has been accomplished through the offerings for foreign missions received at this time. The goal for the offering this year is $6,800,000.

The Junior Girls Auxiliary held their prayer service Monday; the Royal Ambassadors Thursday and the Intermediate Girls Auxiliary Friday.

In preparation for this week, study courses have been held for all groups. The Junior G. A.'s and R. A.'s studied the book "Ming Li," which was taught by Mrs. W. E. Cholerton; the Intermediates and the R. W. A.'s studied about the work in Malaya under Mrs. Cholerton. Supper was served after the course to the juniors by Mrs. George Quidley and to the intermediates by Mrs. Roy King and Mrs. Jack Tillett.

RURAL HEALTH WORKSHOP IN GREENVILLE DEC. 11th

Announcement has been made by Dr. W. W. Johnston, District Health officer that McGinnis Auditorium at East Carolina College will be the scene of the "2ND DISTRICT RURAL HEALTH WORKSHOP CONFERENCE" on Thursday morning, December 11, 1958 beginning at 9:30 a.m. Dave Whichard of Greenville Daily Reflector is Conference Chairman, working with Dr. Vernon Jeter, Plymouth, N. C., Rural Health Chairman for the 2nd Medical Society District. A similar conference was held in Wilson two years ago.

This year's workshop type program will feature four major topics: 1. Nursing Education, 2. Costs of Medical Care, and 3. Mental Retardation — How it Affects the Family, and 4. Adequate Care of the Aged. Key resource persons will be present to give up-to-the minute data in each of these areas of health needs.

The program will open with a general session then divide into the four discussion groups. A summary session will conclude the program at 12:30 p.m. Persons attending will have their choice of discussion groups to attend. It is suggested at least four leaders from each community in the twelve county Second Medical Society district area attend so that they can pool ideas and recommendations back home following their December 11th conference. This area includes Beaufort, Martin, Washington, and Tyrrell counties.
