In Memory of My Brother MELVIN LEE FLOWERS, Who Was Taken From Us December 17, 1958

Festivity is in the air. The lights are all aglow. Our house still has an emptiness. And we still miss you so. This time of year was always gay. As long as we had you. And now we must keep going. Although our hearts are blue. No more noise and laughter. Not a glimpse of your bright face.

No more will we see you. Till we reach that destined place. But we can be assured. That you are free from harm. That God will always keep you. Safe within his arm.

Xmas Cookies Should Be Gay And Special

Christmastime is cooky time. Whether it's cookies to serve with punch for open house, cookies with ambrosia for dessert or gay boxes of cookies for gifts—cooky recipes are always needed.

Cookies for the holidays should be very special ones. A little unusual, a little fancier, a little more elegant than the family favorites you've been baking all year long.

Here is a recipe for easy-to-make drop cookies. Their delicate chocolate flavor is complimented by the English walnuts. Do use the full amount of walnuts as given in the recipe and do use English walnuts for no other nut makes as good a cooky we found in our kitchen testing.

Chocolate Nut Clusters

- (Give baskets of these cookies)
- 3 squares unsweetened chocolate
 - 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
 - 1/2 cup margarine or butter
 - 1 cup sugar
 - 2 eggs
 - 2 teaspoons vanilla
 - 3 cups coarsely broken English walnuts

Melt chocolate over very low heat; set aside. Sift together flour, salt and baking powder. Cream margarine with sugar until fluffy. Add 1 unbeaten egg; mix thoroughly then add other egg. Beat well. Add vanilla and melted chocolate. Stir in flour and nuts. Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased cooky sheet. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, just 10 minutes. Cookies should not brown during baking. Cool on rack. Makes about 40 2-inch cookies.

Almost everyone likes these chewy candy orange slices sold in supermarket candy departments. Here is a wonderfully good cooky made with this candy. The cookies keep very well in case you want to make boxes of them for gifts.

Candy Cooky Squares

- 1 1/4 cups firmly packed brown sugar
 - 1 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 - 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
 - 1/2 cup cut-up candy orange slices
 - 2 eggs, separated
 - 2 tablespoons water
 - 1/2 cup chopped pecans
- Mix together sugar, flour and baking powder. Stir in orange candy. Beat together egg yolks and water, add to first mixture. Beat egg whites until stiff, lightly fold in with nuts. Pour into greased 9x9x1 1/2-inch pan. Bake in slow oven, 325 degrees, 30 minutes. Cut warm cookies with sharp knife. Roll in confectioners sugar. Makes 16 squares.

CHILDREN'S HOME CHRISTMAS FUND DRIVE UNDER WAY

The annual Christmas Fund Drive of The Children's Home Society of North Carolina began recently with a goal of $50,000 to complete its budget for the next fiscal year.

More than 18,000 letters were mailed December 4 to citizens throughout the state telling the story of the 57-year old agency. The Society is the oldest and only voluntarily-supported agency in North Carolina handling adoptions on a state-wide basis.

During the past year the Society has helped 600 babies and children, their natural parents and their adoptive parents. Children from every county in the state have been helped by the Society since its origination.

From its beginning in 1902 when one superintendent had to perform all the work of adoptions, the Society has grown to a staff of trained and experienced workers, capable of handling special problems of adoption.

Today it costs an average of $4-75 a day to care for each baby in the nursery.

The nursery is equipped to accommodate about 20 babies at one time and often there are others in supervised boarding homes. The Society also assists many families in working out their problems so that children may remain with their parents.

For the past nine years, the Society in addition to offering services for babies, has had a program for older children. The agency works directly with officials in orphanages and Departments of Public Welfare in helping to provide early placement for children who need homes.

Each incoming baby receives a complete medical examination and is given every care when it comes to the Society's nursery. Leading doctors, lawyers and other professional people donate their time and services to caring for the babies and helping work out adoption details.

Contributions may be mailed to The Children's Home Society of North Carolina, 740 Chestnut Street, Greensboro.
