

MANTEO ELEMENTARY SCHOOL HAPPENINGS

Grade 4A. Mrs. Gray—We are studying, "Letter Writing," each getting a Pen Pal from different states and countries. We hope to learn more about the World, and make new friends by doing this. Of course our first letter was to Santa Claus.—Ricky Pinner

Grade 3A. Mrs. Willis—In Science we have been studying about plants, insects, birds, snails, animals, etc. One boy brought some mosquito wrigglers and two boys brought pine cones and other things. Each of us made a calendar for December. Every day we write what the weather was for that day and the temperature for that day also. We have been learning a lot about Science.—Carl Swain.

Grade 6B. Mrs. Meekins.—Mrs. Mary Meekins has given her class several tests; one an arithmetic test on written problems; another in addition, subtraction, division, and multiplication. Next a test in science—algae, protoplasm, protozoa, nucleus and chlorophyll, followed by one on language.

In arithmetic studies we have just taken up fractions. We are studying whole numbers, proper fractions, improper fractions, and mixed numbers.—Susan Stallings.

Grade 6B.—We have been studying about Rome and its ways of life, and whose people enjoyed chariot racing which was very dangerous. Men lined up in chariots with two or four horses pulling them. They all started off together at one time. Sometimes wheels would come off and chariots would turn over. Men were always hurt. The idle people no longer cared about strong armies and were always finding new pleasures. They would all gather in a large arena and watch slaves get killed by lions. Those are some of the things we are studying about Rome.

In science we are studying about plants and animals and their main parts.

Algae are plants which live in the water. Another of the things which we are studying is protozoa. Protozoa is the smallest of animals.

The most interesting things in science are the cell wall, protoplasm, and nucleus.—Susan Stallings, Nevin Wescott.

Grade 7A. Mrs. Hooper.—We have just completed a unit in English about using capital letters and punctuation marks correctly. We have learned how to use commas especially. We have learned how important it is to capitalize important things and punctuate the sentence so that it looks and sounds sensible. We have a poster in our room about punctuation. The marks represent, seasonings and how we should use them with care. We have also been studying about appositives, commas, proof-reading letters, and so forth. We plan to have fun with these seasonings.—Donna Lynn Mann.

Grade 7B. Mr. Butler.—The week started out as Thanksgiving week. Our head lunchroom lady, Mrs. Etheridge, planned a delicious turkey dinner for the school. That week we didn't come to school Thursday and Friday.

Janet Mann, Rickie Le Roy, Sherry Twiddy, Shirley White, and Deborah Fisk made a "Fall" bulletin board display. It was made of real leaves and vines arranged as a tree. Shirley made a boy raking leaves as they fell.

Kathy Daniels, Pamela Wise, Cherylene Duvall and Laurnette Etheridge made a pretty Thanksgiving bulletin board display. It had people coming to a little church and a long fence. Some pilgrims were coming from home. It had some turkeys and beautiful trees.

Mr. Butler let Norma Nash, Deborah Fisk, Sherry Twiddy and Shirley White make a Christmas bulletin board display in the main hall.

In the past two weeks three films have been shown to us. The first was of T. B., the second was of Dextrose, and the third of Christmas. This week in health 7B is studying "How to get along with a group."

For our Phys-Education, Mr. Butler set up a volley-ball net and ping-pong tables so everyone can enjoy new games.—Shirley Frances White.

Grade 8A. Mr. Britt.—We have completed a chapter on stars, planets, and meteors. We each are to make a 500 word report on some part of astronomy. Some of us were very interested in "How The Planets go Their Names," by Rodney Wise.

In arithmetic we have been studying decimals. Mr. Britt celebrated his birthday Wednesday, Dec. 2. Our class gave him a surprise party during study period.—Fred Roush.

MANY CHRISTMAS PROGRAMS GIVEN OCRACOKE ISLAND

Much Delightful Entertainment Arranged For Homefolds and Visitors This Season

OCRACOKE, Dec. 16. — Ocracoke P. T. A. met last night, Tuesday, at the school library, which was attractively decorated with yaupon for the Christmas occasion. There was also a beautiful Christmas tree and Nativity Scene. Mrs. Dicie Wells presided. Christmas carols were sung by the group. Mr. Rondthaler read the Christmas Story from Luke. Rev. Charles Clary offered prayer. Mrs. Benjamin Spencer read a short Christmas story. The business session was brief; only reports of the secretary and treasurer. Other matters of business were postponed to the January meeting. Hostesses for January are Mrs. Kermit Robinson, Mrs. Theodore Rondthaler, Mrs. David F. O'Neal, Mrs. John T. O'Neal, Mrs. Ronald O'Neal, and Mrs. Etta Spencer. Following the business session, the hostesses served a delicious salad course. A colored movie entitled, "The Christmas Spirit" was appreciatively seen by those present.

There will be two Christmas programs at the Ocracoke Churches. The first will be on Tuesday night, December 22nd, at the Assembly of God Church; this will consist of recitations by the beginners and primary classes, a junior department play, "Linda and the Living Window" with Mrs. Sydney Mae Styron as narrator and Anthony Mutro, Jimmie Jackson, Ignatius Styron, Douglas O'Neal, Raymond Styron, Linda Gaskins and Mabel Mutro taking parts. There will also be a panel discussion, "What is Christmas?" led by Miss Betsy Carole Styron, with Lewis and Louise Tolleson, Mabel Mutro, and Jimmie Jackson participating, and there will be Scripture Readings from the Bible prophecies by the adult group.

At the Methodist Church, the annual program will be presented on Christmas Eve, December 24th. Children will sing and recite. A play, "The Christmas Secret" will be presented by Ann Esham, Linda Teeter, Margaret Spencer, and Brenda Ballance. This introduces in it a group of children from foreign lands, who will be appropriately costumed, and the Shepherds, and Wise Men, and Mary and Joseph in the Manger Scene. Mary will be portrayed by

KITTY HAWK SCHOOL NEWS

Seventh and Eighth grades—In Health class the seventh and eighth grades are making scrap-books about "Growing Up," physically, mentally, socially and emotionally. Robby Beasley and "Our Atmosphere" at the last P.T.A. meeting. The subject of the bulletin board this week is North Carolina and the 3 A's—affection, acceptance, achievement. We are going to have a chapel program December 17. We have different skits to present and will have a 4-H dance on December 22, 1959, with their admission 30¢ for everyone.—Corrine Sanderlin, Reporter.

Fifth and Sixth Grades—The fifth and sixth grades have been studying about compounds and elements in science. We tried an experiment to show that sugar is a compound. We found out that sugar has carbon and water in it.—Mary Nettles, Reporter.

Miss Lorraine Howard, Joseph by Lindsey Howard, the Shepherds by James Barrie Gaskill, Joey Gaskill, Rudy Austin, Billie Garish Stan Gaskins, and Jackie Wilson; the Wise Men by Warwick Boos, Ronnie Van O'Neal, and Joe Ben Garrish. Christmas carols will be sung by the Junior and Senior Chorus.

On last Sunday night, December 13th, the Choirs of the Methodist Church presented a beautiful song service program, singing some of the less familiar carols. It was the first appearance of the Junior Choir in vestments. Both choirs are under the direction of John Dearing, a new member this year of the Ocracoke School faculty.

The Susanna Class of the Methodist Sunday School met on last Friday afternoon with Mrs. Elsie Tolson.

On Friday night of this week, December 18th, members of the Willing Workers Class will meet in the church recreation hall for their annual Christmas party. Jack Willis is president of the class; Theodore Rondthaler is teacher.

Circle No. 2 of the Woman's Society of the Methodist Church had its Christmas party last Friday night. Sixteen members were present, including the Leader, Mrs. Ansley O'Neal. The group sang carols around a Christmas tree, exchanged gifts, and enjoyed refreshments together.

SALVO MAN ENDS 30 YEARS OF COAST GUARD SERVICE

Chief Warrant Boatswain Cyrus Gray, Veteran search and rescue officer, retired from the Coast Guard Monday in Norfolk with more than 30 years service.

Rear Admiral P. V. Colmar, Commander, Fifth Coast Guard District presented Gray with his retirement orders during ceremonies at district headquarters this morning.

Gray's last duty station was the District Rescue Coordination Center at Norfolk, where he has served since February, 1954.

A native of Salvo, North Carolina, the 56-year old Coast Guard Officer first joined the Service in 1923. He served first at the Coast Guard Lifeboat Station at Forked River. Duty aboard the cutter TERRY.
