MISS NOBLE HONORED: FEB. 28 BRIDE-ELECT

Mrs. T. A. Jordan and her daughter, Mrs. Glenn Carawan entertained at a luncheon at one o'clock on February 17 at the home of Mrs. Jordan on Front Street, honoring Miss Sandra Noble whose marriage to Richard Onslow Howard, Jr., will take place on Sunday.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Jordan and directed to the dining room by Mrs. Carawan. The honoree, lovely in a lavender blue dress and pink spring hat, was presented a corsage of pink perfection camellias upon arrival.

The house was decorated in pink and white. Arrangements of pink camellias were used and on the luncheon table was an imported linen cloth. Pink perfection camellias floating in a silver bowl flanked by silver candelabra holding pink tapers completed the setting.

Guests included the bride-elect and her mother, Mrs. Franklin Noble, the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. R. O. Howard and Mesdames H. V. Latham, Ralph Sawyer, Frank Keaton, Jimmie Cox, Gilbert Radcliff, R. H. Allen, Ralph Hodges and Roger Phillips.

Bridal Shower Thursday Night Miss Sandra Noble, bride-elect of February 28, was honor guest at a miscellaneous bridal shower Thursday night when Mesdames Jay Wobig, R. H. Allen and Ralph Hodges entertained at the home of Mrs. Wobig on Pungo Creek.

The home was attractively arranged carrying out the bridal motif. An informal social hour was enjoyed by all climaxed with the opening of many lovely and useful gifts by the bride-elect.

The hostess served lime sherbet, mints, sandwiches and candies from a lovely party table entwined with greenery and lighted by white candles in silver holders, to the following guests: Miss Sandra Nobles, Mesdames Franklin Nobles, R. O. Howard, H. V. Latham, Ralph Sawyer, George Riddick, M. L. Andrews, Pat Leigh, Charles Smith, Miss Mary Costulis and Miss Pattie Lou Martin. Miniature household articles were used as favors.
