DREDGING OF BAR CHANNEL, OREGON INLET DUE TODAY

To Remove 100,000 Yards to 14 Ft. Depth by 400 Ft.; Approach Channel Half Done

The Corps of Engineers Hopper Dredge Hyde is scheduled to arrive at Oregon Inlet today (June 3) to begin the dredging of the inlet's ocean bar channel...

The Hyde will come here from New York where it has been engaged in similar work.

Colonel Davidson said it is estimated that it will take the Hyde two weeks to remove the necessary 100,000 cu. yds. to provide project dimensions of 14 feet deep by 400 feet wide.

He said the last survey of the bar channel was made May 17 and at that time the controlling depth was 10.6 feet at mean low water.

In view of the fact that the dredge would have to round Diamond Shoals to reach Morehead City for supplies, the dredge will go to Norfolk for fuel, water and other necessary provisions.

Meanwhile, according to the report, the dredging of the inside approach channel from Pamlico Sound to the inlet has passed the halfway mark and with reasonable weather the job should be finished within a few weeks.

Next came defeat of Victor Meekins by Lawrence Swain by a majority of 130. Meekins defeated Swain two years ago by a majority of 720, at which time a whole new Board of Commissioners went into office.

Play Kemp of Manteo Harbor, seeking a place on this Board, lost to Floyd Hooper of Stumpy Point, the incumbent, by a majority of 477.

The pattern for voting, which was set up throughout nearly all precincts of the county called for the election of Lawrence Swain, Horace Hooper, David Stick, George Fuller and Fred Gray for Commissioner; with Floyd Hooper and William Dillon for the Board of Education. In most instances, the tickets which read in this order at the Manteo box included M. K. Fearing, Jr., for Representative.

The nerve center of the organization has for sometime been the Sheriff's office which has five deputies at its command to do the work while being paid for by the taxpayers, including their travel expenses as well.
