VOL. XXVI MANTEO, N. C., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1961 NO. 32

CARMICHAEL'S DEATH A STATEWIDE LOSS.

The death of Billy Carmichael Jr. Vice-President of the University in Chapel Hill last week was a terrific blow to North Carolina, and a definite loss to The Lost Colony which owes so much to the dedicated interest and support he has devoted to it since it was established.

BROUGHTON RENDERED PATRIOTIC SERVICE.

There will be widespread regret that J. M. Broughton Jr. has seen fit to resign as chairman of the State Highway Commission, as he says, "due to the necessity of devoting more time to his personal affairs."

Last year, there was a strong movement throughout the state to encourage Mel Broughton to run for Governor, and large delegations called on him, appealing to him to enter the race.

SELLING OUR BIRTHRIGHT IN PROSPECT.

The complacency with which some citizens are willing to accept the imposition of tolls, to be exacted of the people of Coastal North Carolina and their visitors, on our roads is another example of selling one's birthright for a mess of pottage.

To support the return of tolls to our highways is shortsighted policy indeed. Should the administration approve it, it our state would be receding from the great gains made in our march of progress during the last 40 years.

THE YOUNG NEED STRONG FAITH.

Young minds need a strong faith. It is up to the older generation of Americans, those who understand, to tell the new generation coming on the real story of how the United States developed from a wilderness to the richest nation on earth.

NEW PREACHING STYLE AT SWAN QUARTER CHURCH

"The pew speaks to the pulpit," is the topic Sunday Feb. 4, at Swan Quarter Christian church, Garland Bland, the minister announces.

The following ladies will speak ten minutes each on this subject: Mrs. Keith Dunbar, Mrs. Tim Smith and Mrs. Ray Cahoon, after which the audience will have five minutes in which to talk.

MATHEW JENNETTE

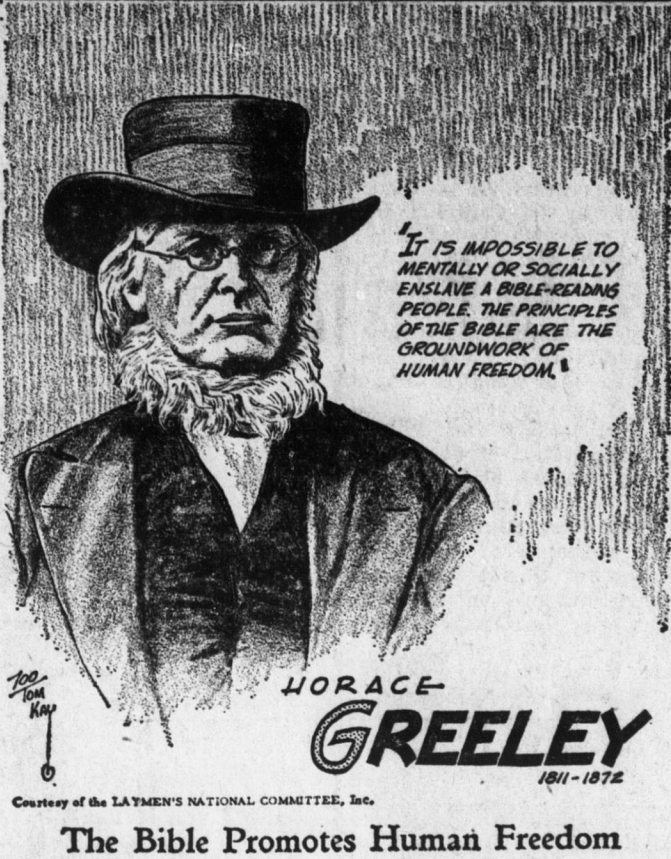

Mathew Abernathy Jennette, 25-day-old infant son of Nasa F. Jr. and Mrs. Ann Burrus Jennette, died Friday about 11:30 a.m. in a helicopter on the way to Albemarle Hospital from Hatteras.

Besides his parents, surviving are two brothers, Willard R. Jennette and N. F. Jennette III of Buxton; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Britt Burrus of Hatteras; and his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Jennette of Buxton.

A funeral service was held in Buxton Methodist Church Sunday at 1 p.m. by the Rev. C. E. Cash, pastor. Burial was in the family plot at Buxton.

SCHOOL FOR ANGLERS AT NAGS HEAD PLANNED

NAGS HEAD.—The tenth anniversary of the Sport Fishing short course will be celebrated June 11-16 at Nags Head, under the direction of North Carolina State College, it was announced this week by college officials.

In the classroom, students will hear lectures and see demonstrations on all kinds of fishing. Fresh and salt water tackle and equipment will be discussed. Instructors will even demonstrate how to work different types of lures.

The agenda includes fresh water fishing, a Gulf Stream trip, and off-shore trolling as well as surf casting and pier fishing. Headquarters for the school will be at the Carolinian Hotel.

Featured speakers will be Robert M. Jenkins, Sports Fishing Institute, Washington, D. C.; Joe Lewis, manufacturers' representative, Charlotte; Noon Hudson, Shakespeare Co., Atlanta, Ga.; Bob Stankus, Garcia Corp., New York, N. Y.; Bill Walston, manufacturers' representative, Rocky Mount; Bill Faircloth, Zebco, Greensboro; Hal Lyman, publisher of the Salt Water Fisherman, Boston, Mass.; and Art Dickson, N. C. Wildlife Resources Commission.

Representing North Carolina State College will be Dr. Fred Barkalow, head of the zoology department and his fellow workers, Dr. Bill Hassler, Dr. Gene Hester and Hugh Fields.

Registration is limited to the first 75 applicants. To reserve a place in the fishing school, write the College Extension Division, Box 5125, State College Station, Raleigh, N. C.

takes place in February, other fund-raising efforts for support of the Heart program go on throughout the year," said Mrs. Etheridge. "Memorial gifts in the name of people who have died from heart disease are acceptable at any time. Mr. Long, as treasurer of the Council, will handle memorial gifts and checks may be sent to him.

"As a Council of the North Carolina Heart Association," Mrs. Etheridge pointed out, "we are a part of the American Heart Association and responsible for the Heart program in this area. I think everyone would like to know how the dollar he gives to Heart is spent. Here is a breakdown furnished by the treasurer of the State Heart Association:

Research, 37%; professional education, 10 1/2%; public education, 23 1/2%; community service, 6 1/2%; organization and development, 5%; fund raising, 11 1/2%; administration, 6%; Total $1.00.

"The entire Heart program — local, state and national — depends on the voluntary giving of the public. Giving during the annual Heart Fund drive in February is only one way people can express their concern with the problem of heart disease. Our hope is to bring a year 'round Heart program to Dare County. We have a real need for such a program, for according to the latest vital statistics (1959), we had 42 deaths in this county due to diseases of the heart and blood vessels — which amounted to 63.6% of our total deaths."

Nancy Carter's Kitchen Know-How

Casseroles Can Make Meals Easy

Casserole main dishes are a busy homemaker's friend. Frequently these can be prepared in advance, often with leftovers, and later put in the oven without last minute worry.

In your friendly super market you'll find a choice of several types of salad greens for tossed salads, cabbage for slaw, or citrus fruit that needs only sectioning for salad use.

Because most casseroles are rather substantial, I think light desserts are best. You'll find super markets offer almost unlimited dessert choices such as fresh, canned or frozen fruits; ice creams or sherbets, and on the bakery racks are airy light angel food and sponge cakes or jelly rolls. So take it easy when you serve a casserole meal.

Dried Beef - Macaroni Casserole

- 1 package (8 oz.) elbow macaroni
3/4 pound dried beef
1/4 cup margarine
2 1/2 cups milk or evaporated milk
2 tablespoons minced onion
1/4 cup chopped parsley
1/4 cup chopped pimiento
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1 cup grated sharp cheddar cheese

Cook macaroni according to package directions. Drain thoroughly. Rinse dried beef in hot water; drain on paper towels. Pull beef into shreds; brown lightly in margarine until crisp. Add milk, onion, parsley, pimiento, green pepper and seasonings. Heat thoroughly. Combine all ingredients except cheese. Turn into greased 2-quart casserole. Top with cheese. Bake, uncovered, in moderate oven, 350 degrees, 30 minutes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Pork Chop Noodle Casserole

- 4 pork chops, cut 1/2-inch thick
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
2 cups hot cooked noodles
1 can (10 1/2 oz.) cream of chicken soup
1 cup water
1 tablespoon shopped onion
Brown chops on one side. Turn and season with salt and mustard. Put noodles in 1-quart casserole. Top with chops, browned side next to noodles. Pour soup, water and onion into skillet. Stir and heat then pour over chops. Cover. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, 1/2 hour. Uncover, bake 1/4 hour longer to brown chops. Makes 4 servings.

PIRATE JAMBOREE SPONSORS INCREASED 1961 BUDGET

NAGS HEAD.—An increased budget for presenting the sixth annual Dare Coast Pirates Jamboree during the last week end of April was adopted by the county-wide committee meeting at Beacon Motor Lodge at Nags Head Sunday afternoon.

The additional money planned to be spent will be used in stepping up various phases of the event which will officially launch the Dare Coast-Outer Banks vacation season.

A more exciting battle and landing through the employment of additional daytime pyrotechnics and more colorful boats is planned.

Prizes will be offered for the best floats in a parade to begin at Kitty Hawk Bay on the west shore of Kill Devil Hill and move via the connecting highways through Nags Head and Manteo to Waterside Theatre where it is planned to have the official coronation of King Blackbeard VII and the new Buccaneer Queen.

A thrilling water ski show will precede the battle and landing under the direction of Laverne Watson.

Better organized dances are in the planning stages. There will be two big pre-Jamboree dances, one for the teenagers on April 21 followed by the Jolly Roger Ball the following night at which time new Dare Coast Pirate royalty will be selected. Presently Dick Ward of Nags Head is King Blackbeard VI, and Mrs. Ina Evans of Manteo is the buccaneer queen.

Two caravans of buccaneers advancing the Jamboree were announced. It is planned for one trip to go as far as Pittsburgh, Pa., with a second junket planned for Raleigh and the N. C. General Assembly.

YOUNG MUSICIANS DRAW LARGE CROWD MONDAY

Some of Dare County's young musicians drew a large audience Monday night when the groups affiliated with the N. C. Federation of Music Clubs juniors presented a varied program in the Manteo Elementary School auditorium.

Manteo Rhythm Band, directed by Miss Holland Wescott, performed in two sections; and three of Miss Westcott's piano pupils, Virginia Powell, Susan Oneto and Linda Parent, played solos. The Mount Olivet Methodist Junior Choir, directed by Mrs. Rennie Williamson, sang a group of sacred numbers.

From Mrs. V. S. Mayberry's piano class, Ann Midgett and Iris Parker played a duet. The newly organized Manteo High School chorus, under direction of Mrs. John Bell, sang five numbers, and showed much promise of becoming an outstanding choral group in the near future.

The program was sponsored by the Roanoke Island Music Club, and proceeds went to help finish payments on the Manteo high school piano.

CAPITAL CLIPBOARD News and Comment from our Raleigh Bureau - 265 Oberlin Rd.

By EULA N. GREENWOOD

Past Tense This fellow said: "I voted for Nixon and Gavin—but that was nearly three months ago—and, really, I am getting a little tired of being reminded of it."

Well, it reads here the first step toward redemption is to get rid of —get shed of, may be a bet'er term—the old weather-worn thing that used to be a sticker on the car bumper.

Antidote (a medicine, etc., for counteracting—getting shed of—poison, disease, etc.): a generous dose of gasoline.

Hint: Don't take it. Rub it on—not on yourself, on bumper. Addendum: It works equal as well on Kennedy-Sanford stickers and erases as well those: "Democrats are for YOU" signs.

Everybody who's going to be in so safely ensconced in office, all good men have long since gone to the aid of their party—and it's time to get back to work.

Lambeth's The Name If you should ever have occasion to call one of the State departments in Raleigh, just ask for TE 4-3611. If those girls operating the capital exchange—offices actually Revenue Building—don't know the person you are calling, then just give up. They don't miss much.

All sorts of requests stem directly from the reputed efficiency. But let's face it—things have been moving pretty swiftly in Raleigh lately—and even the operators got behind on developments.

For instance, this voice called one day last week wanting to know the "full name of Mr. Lambeth who is assistant to the Governor."

"We do not have a Lambeth here. You must be referring to Mr. Tom Lambert," sang the operator, "and would you like to speak to Mr. Lambert?"

No, just want his initials—and that last name, the caller persisted. After a moment, the operator came back—obviously very much embarrassed (thanked the caller for setting her straight, said they were changing the spelling, etc., which she admitted should have been: W. T. Lambeth.

A slender, handsome, scholastic and very eligible bachelor who with Graham Jones and a handful of stenographers, etc., runs the Governor's office, Mr. Lambeth is from Winston-Salem and is only distantly related to the former Eighth District Congressman Walter Lambeth who was found dead in his Washington, D.C., hotel suite a few days ago.

Minority Viewpoint

The Republican viewpoint in the forthcoming Legislature will be presented in weekly letters to begin next week, it is announced by the G.O.P.

A similar report was written at one time by W. E. Cobb, now Republican chairman when he was in the State Senate.

They say that some of the newspapers in Republican counties are planning to carry the "G.O.P. Viewpoint" reporting on doings of the minority.

Adam's Apple Rhythm

Have you seen one of those handmade State Seal ties?

At the Governor's inauguration and since we have observed a lot of well dressed men wearing the black ties with size-of-a-quarter State Seals in gold all over them. Very attractive . . . and most unusual.

Those ties were designed by the No. 1 merchant in the Legislature, Ike Balk of Charlotte, president of Belk Enterprises and a dozen other companies who two terms in a row now has led the Democratic ticket in Mecklenburg County.

The Belk tie was blue for Christmas of 1959. The black ones were Christmas presents this time again from Mr. Balk to members of the Legislature, newspapermen, and sundry and divers other State officials and private individuals.

Now it is not uncommon—and indeed appropriate—to see a half-dozen men here solemnly discussing State affairs as the State Seals in gold move in gentle rhythm over bobbing Adam's apples.

You're Our Everything! They are not talking for publication, but the word is that many a chamber of commerce manager is breathing a little easier because of recent statements made by the Governor as regards industry.

He infers rather strongly that the N.C. Dept. of Conservation and Development has been devoting possibly too much time of late to new industry—and not enough to conserving, and developing.

get it or get out. The turnover in efficient chamber managers in North Carolina is alarming. The pressure is fierce. Kinston lost their manager last fall. Durham is losing theirs on April 1. There seems to be general unrest.

It may be that more cities—a few counties like Granville, Robeson, Union, and Bladen have done it—should consider setting up special industrial departments (as the State obviously plans to do) so that other organizations can get back to their normal endeavors.

Dare Sales Tax Loss

Sales tax collections from Dare County were $7,483 during this past December as compared with $9,176 for December of 1959, according to figures just released by the N. C. Revenue Department and analyzed by this newspaper's Raleigh bureau.

Collections reported to the State during December reflected sales totaling $538,444 in November. In the State as a whole, tax collections reported in December were $7,610,359 as against $7,474,396.02 for December of 1959.

Gross retail sales for the State reported in December were $445,481,218 as compared with $463,062,981 reported in November.

College Leaders Visit Governor

Although Governor Terry Sanford has not spelled out in specific terms his plans for a broadened educational program for N. C., at least three of his official visitors last week were educators—and each came without the knowledge of the other.

They were Charles W. Phillips, Woman's College, UNC; David S. Weaver, N. C. State College; and Dean W. Colvard, now president of Mississippi State.

Other prominent callers on the Governor during the week were: Grady Farthing, Boone, former State Senator; Ralph Scott, State Senator from Alamance and younger brother of the late W. Kerr Scott; Judson H. Blount, Greenville, an officer of N. C. and Atlantic Railroad; and Edwin Pou, former Wake legislator and son of the late George Ross pou.
