TREN-CENTER DISTURBED

COLUMBIA. — W. W. Sawyer, night policeman, was called in to break up a fight Saturday night in the Teen-Center on Main Street. Four men were carried to the Town Hall and tried before Justice of the Peace Henry L. Reynolds as a result. Brack Daniel Hoggard, Jr., of Ahoskie, was charged with affray and disturbing the peace, was found guilty and sentenced to $10 and court costs. Marshall Wayne Askew, also of Ahoskie, was charged with affray and disturbing the peace, was given $10 and court costs. Ray Davenport of Columbia was given the same charge and sentenced to $5 and costs. Charles Deaver was found not guilty.

MISS EDWARDS HONORED

COLUMBIA. — Mrs. Elsie Edwards, assistant home agent who has resigned to take a position in Pasquotank County, June 1st, was given a party by the 4-H students at the County Council Thursday night. Don Chaplin outlined the inspiration and encouragement she had been to the 4-H groups, and added "She has made our best even better." Regrets were expressed by all of the students. She was presented with an electric clock, on which was engraved to "Mrs. Elsie B. Edwards from Tyrrell 4-H'ers."

Miss Edwards expressed thanks, her hope that they would continue the good work, and her happiness in having worked with them.

The president, Judy Rhodes, announced May 14 as 4-H Sunday. Devotion was given by Don Chaplin; pledges were led by Hal Cohoon; singing by Sandra Owens, with Dale Davis accompanying.

A report on proceeds from the snack stand at the livestock show was given by Pat Brickhouse.

Punch, cookies and potato chips were served. Responsible for the preparations were Thadine Hopkins, Alice Ann Oliver, Ann Clough, Judy Rhodes, Flora Ann Hollis, Don Chaplin, J. Warren Swain and Mrs. Augusta Higgins.

DOG POISONER IS AT WORK IN COLUMBIA AREA

COLUMBIA. — Pet dogs here are having a hard time to survive these days. Two waves of poison death for the pups and heart-break for the kids have occurred within the past four to five weeks.

Much concern is being expressed openly for fear children may come in contact with a lethal dose. The adult pleas are for those persons who are wont to put out poison for any reason to think twice before they do, lest the victim be one of our own loved ones.

The dogs which have succumbed from what appeared to be a dose of strychnine thus far have been mostly valuable pets — blooded Boston bulls, boxers and others — pals to the junior members of the families. About a dozen have met this fate, six within the past week. No stray uncared for dogs can be counted among the number.

Among those who have lost their pets recently are Robert Jones, Albert Bateman, Mrs. Elsie Edwards and Mrs. Abner Harrell all of the New-Town area; Mrs. Camille Ev-erton and John A. Hardison whose homes are in proximity, and scattered incidents; H. T. Davenport
