BELHAVEN TO HAVE NEW INDUSTRY SOON

The Belhaven Chamber of Commerce met at the River Forest Manor Monday evening with Axson Smith presiding.

Warnia Gurkin and Tom Phillips of Plymouth were guests. Mr. Gurkin brought greetings from the Conservation and Development Department to which he was recently appointed by Gov. Sanford. Mr. Gurkin is serving on the Commercial Fisheries Committee.

Mrs. Elizabeth G. Windley was recognized and spoke briefly on Civil Defense. The group expressed themselves as favoring Belhaven's doing something about a qualified Civil Defense organization. H. L. Dilday, Jule Purvis, W. E. Bateman, Jr., and others spoke in favor of having someone here from the state office in Raleigh to meet with town officials and interested citizens.

Mr. Smith announced that a new industry was locating in Belhaven, a garment factory beginning operation shortly in the Rad Jones building on Bay Street and will be known as the Belhaven Industries, Inc. At first the owner, Sam Kaner, hopes to employ about 40 persons and have a payroll of approximately $1200 weekly. Within eighteen months he hopes to train more workers and have a payroll of $5000 weekly.

Mr. Hendricks of the Belhaven Jewelry Co. spoke on the importance of promoting industry.

L. R. Smith spoke regarding the condition of the piece of highway connecting Pamlico Street and the by-pass of 264. It was suggested that the committee on roads contact the highway department. C. B. Tillman said he had been advised that the highway was planning to top the piece of road in the fall.

MIDGETTE NAMED COACH AT JOHN A. WILKINSON SCHOOL

W. F. Veasey, superintendent of Beaufort County schools, announced on Monday the appointment of Linville Edward Midgette of Cary as coach and teacher at John A. Wilkinson High School in Belhaven, replacing John Daskal who resigned at the end of last school year.

Mr. Midgette started working with candidates for the John A. Wilkinson High eight-man football team on Monday. The Bulldogs will play their first game at Rocky Ridge on September 1.

Mr. Midgette is a graduate of Atlantic Christian College in Wilson. He attended Wake Forest College his freshman year and was a member of the freshman football team. He entered service at the end of the year and upon his return attended Louisburg College for two years before transferring to A.C.C. where he was graduated last spring.

He is married to the former Audrey Armstrong and they have one son, age two. Midgette's family has roots in Hyde County.

MRS. CHESTER WINDLEY RECENT BRIDE HONORED

Mrs. Chester Windley, who before her recent marriage was Mrs. Beulah Singleton Pinkham of Washington, was honored Wednesday evening when Mrs. D. C. Windley and Mrs. Frank Thompson entertained at an informal reception at the home of Mrs. Thompson in Pantego. The honoree's corsage was of pink carnations, gift of the hostesses, who later remembered her with an attractive tray.

Mrs. D. C. Windley directed guests to the dining area. The lace covered table was centered with pink zinnias and white elematis with pink candles in silver candelabra. Mrs. James Windley presided at the punch service. Nuts, mints, wedding cookies, and macaroons completed the refreshments.

Good-byes were said to Mrs. Joseph A. Windley. Approximately 50 guests called.

BELHAVEN LIONS CLUB ENTERTAINS TEACHERS

The Belhaven Lions held their annual picnic at the Community Center hursday evening. They had as special guests the faculty members of John A. Wilkinson School, their husbands and wives.

Lion president Eddie Voliva presided and called upon lion Delma Tolan for a speech of welcome. Lion Roy Justice introduced I. L. Leary, the new principal, and Mrs. Leary; Nicky Paul, agriculture teacher and Mrs. Paul; and Linville Midgette, new coach and social studies teacher, other faculty members were then presented. The Rev. Joe Peak, pastor of the Missionary Baptist church, gave the invocation.

The "Comets", local high school combo played popular numbers. Mrs. M. T. A. Jordan, Jr. of Portsmouth, Va., were honored on Thursday evening when their parents held open house at their home in Belhaven. Mr. and Mrs. Jordan, Jr. were married on July 1st in Chattanooga, Tenn., and have moved to Portsmouth, Va., where he will be a member of the faculty of Frederick college.

Guests were greeted by the senior Jordans. Mrs. Glenn Carawan invited them to register and directed to the dining area where Mrs. R. O. Howard and Mrs. C. R. Potter presided at the refreshment table.

The table was laid with an embroidered linen cloth. A massive arrangement of cala lilies and greenery in a silver bowl was flanked by white tapers in silver holders. Mrs. Howard and Mrs. Potter served punch. Cake squares, cheese wafers, nuts and mints were also served. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Paul Dawson, Mrs. John Cutrell and Mrs. R. D. Mitchell.

Goodbyes were said to the Rev. and Mrs. Joe Peak. Approximately 100 guests called.

FIFTEEN CONVICTED FOR COIN PHONE ROBBERIES

Since the first of the year, 15 persons apprehended and convicted have also been required to pay damage claims ranging from $75 to $500, in addition to serving long jail sentences, Manager Wilkinson pointed out.

Damage to coin telephones generally exceeds the small amount of money stolen during each robbery, as coins from each telephone are collected frequently enough to prevent a large accumulation. Wilkinson urges that citizens living near outdoor telephone booths help apprehend coin telephone burglars by reporting suspicious activity to the police. "The company's offer of $100 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of these law violaters still stands," he said.
