DILDAYS HOLD OPEN HOUSE

Circle Grove Farm near Belhaven, the Colonial home of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Dilday, was the setting on Sunday of an Old Fashioned Christmas when the Dildays and their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Hersey Lee Dilday, held open house from four to six. Wreaths, candles and open fires throughout the house welcomed the many guests that called during the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Dilday received in the entrance hall and invited guests to register. Mr. and Mrs. James Younce presided in the dining room, where a table appointed in red and white held punch, tiny ham biscuits, fruit cake and nuts. Susan, Donna and Lynn Dilday, daughters of the Marion Dildays, helped their parents entertain.

Open house at Christmas has become an annual affair with the Dildays and friends look forward each year to the event.

DAVID T. DAVIS IN GERMANY GETS BOOST

STUTTGART, GERMANY (AHTNC)—Specialist Five David T. Davis, 31, whose wife, Metta, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. David C. Davis, live on Route 2, Belhaven, recently received a monthly increase in pay under the Army's proficiency pay system while assigned to the 87th Ordnance Battalion's 504th Company in Germany.

The proficiency pay system is designed to recognize Army personnel who display special proficiency in the performance of critical specialties and to serve as an incentive to attract and retain highly-qualified personnel in the Army. Specialist Davis, an automotive mechanic in the company in Stuttgart, entered the Army in 1949 and arrived overseas on this tour of duty last June.

NEW SCHEDULE OF BOAT TAXES IS ANNOUNCED

RALEIGH, Dec. — All boats used primarily for commercial fishing in North Carolina waters are affected under the new tax schedule which goes into effect January 1, the Department of Conservation and Development has announced.

Under the new schedule as enacted by the 1961 General Assembly, taxes must be paid annually by owners of commercial fishing boats and by owners and operators of such other type craft as trawl boats, dredge boats, motorboats, and haul boats using commercial fishing equipment.

Another 1961 legislative act provides that a commercial fishing boat, which has been previously licensed under the North Carolina motorboat law and which has also been granted a commercial fishing license by the Department of Conservation and Development to operate in State-controlled waters, may have its registration renewed without additional cost after the owner has submitted proof to the Wildlife Resources Commission that his commercial fishing license has been paid for the year in which it is being used. This eliminates the Department said, a so-called double taxation which had long concerned commercial fishermen in this State.

Following is the new schedule of taxes on boats used primarily for commercial fishing in State-controlled waters:

- (1) A tax of $1 each on boats and skiffs without motors of any type up to and including 18 feet in overall length.
(2) A tax of $3 each on motorboats up to and including 18 feet in overall length.
(3) A tax of 50 cents per foot of overall length on boats having an excess of 18 feet and up to and including 26 feet.
(4) A tax of 75 cents per foot of overall length on boats having an overall length in excess of 26 feet.
All commercial fishing license taxes are payable to the Division of Commercial Fisheries, Department of C&D, Morehead City, N.C.

ALL EARNINGS SHOULD BE REPORTED FOR CREDIT

Most employers express sincere pride in the part they play in providing social security protection for their employees. They recognize the importance of keeping accurate records of their employees' earnings and the amount of social security taxes they withhold. They understand too that timely reports for each employee must be filed with the Director of Internal Revenue at the end of each calendar quarter.

Not all types of work were covered under the social security law in 1937. For this reason, social security reporting is relatively new to some employers. For example, domestic workers were not covered under social security until 1951. Most agricultural workers also were not covered until 1955. Not all domestic and agricultural employers are, therefore, aware of their responsibilities.

The requirements are very specific: All domestic work must be reported if domestics are paid $50 cash or more (by the same employer) in a calendar quarter regardless of the number of days on which the employee worked in that quarter. All work done on a farm for which the worker is paid $150 or more in cash in a year is covered. The farm worker is also covered if he works 20 or more days (for the same employer) during a year for cash wages figured on a time basis.

The accuracy of employers' reports cannot be overemphasized. The amount of social security benefits is directly related to the period of employment and the amount of earnings credited to each account. If certain employers fail to report their employees' earnings or report only part of their earnings, it is impossible for the Social Security Administration to arrive at the true benefit payable. No report could mean no benefits, while incomplete reporting may mean only partial benefits.

If you employ a domestic or an agricultural worker and are not receiving the forms for making the tax reports, ask at your local social security office or your Internal Revenue Service Office.
