CHRISTMAS MESSAGE CHEERS MANTEO P. O. EMPLOYEES

No one has to work harder under difficult circumstances than postoffice employes in a short period, when the Christmas rush is on, due to the many greeting cards and letters mailed and received, and the heavy bulk of Christmas parcels post packages. There is a let down on the day following Christmas, when business drops off. The Manteo postoffice clerks have been heartened. This season many letters and cards of appreciation for the service given during the holidays, one message came from Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Mustin who are vacationing on the Florida keys and who are having their mail forwarded. Those who have sent messages include pastors, and many other people, whose mail has been cared for in their absence.

One woman has written the most prized message: She said "I have been in many postoffices but there is none so merry and jolly, it's a pleasure to go in and do business; everyone greets you with a smile, and if you have the blues they cheer you when you hear that cheerful hello. You are the best in the world, I think. I love you all and hope you have a very Merry Christmas." To this and several other messages in similar vein, the postoffice employes take this means of expressing their thanks and good wishes.

To keep crabs from stealing the bait when surf fishing, use a 1 1/2 inch cork ball float a few inches above your hook. This will keep your bait out of the reach of most crabs. — Sports Afield.
