ANARCHISTS OUGHT TO BE WIPED OUT.

That the assassination of Mr. McKinley was the result of a plot, all who have investigated the matter believe. In the first place it was not an act of personal malice, but the result of anarchistic teachings. Czolgosz says he loved McKinley the man, but hated McKinley the monopolistic president, which shows that he was incited to the atrocious deed by wrong principles and not personal motives. Emma Goldman, who for years preached the gospel of murder and blood, was in Buffalo four days before the murder occurred, and is said to have seen the assassin. She communicated with the circles of Anarchists in Cleveland, Chicago and Paterson, N. J., just before she left. The police in several cities knew that the Anarchists were on the qui vive for something, but could not tell what it was. An Anarchist in the far West predicted a few days before the tragedy that Mr. McKinley would be killed. The Anarchists' circle of Chicago, of which Czolgosz was a member, expelled him two days before in order that it might appear that they had nothing to do with the crime. On Friday morning "Die Freiheit," the Anarchist organ, published in New York by Johann Most, appeared with a violent article stating that all presidents, kings and rulers should die. The President was shot Friday afternoon. Czolgosz says he was planning the crime several days, and went to Buffalo to get a chance to kill Mr. McKinley. This is in line with the murders of European rulers. When President Sadi-Carnot, of France, was killed, it was the result of the instructions of a band of Anarchists. Bresci, the assassin of King Humbert, of Italy, was sent out by the Anarchist settlement at Paterson, N. J., as a special ambassador to kill the King of Italy. The details of that plot are too fresh in the public mind to require a detailed account. The assassin of the Empress of Austria belonged to another one of these infamous "circles." Every one of these assassinations grew out of the doctrines taught by the Anarchists. These doctrines if carried out by any large number of disciples would create a reign of terror throughout the world. The avowed desire of the Anarchists is the destruction of nations, the destruction of society. Society has a right to protect itself, and the only way to secure this protection is to wipe out of existence the whole tribe of Anarchists. It is almost as much a crime to preach the doctrine of murder and assassination as it is to commit murder. It only waits the opportunity to change the thought into the deed.

CHANGES IN THE CABINET.

The announcement has been repeatedly made in the newspapers in the last few days that no changes may be expected in the cabinet. It is true that all the members of the cabinet tendered their resignations and that President Roosevelt refused to accept them. And it is therefore announced that all the members will retain their portfolios—and they will, for the present. All this is customary. But that the resignations were refused does not necessarily mean that there will be no changes in the cabinet. It has been the talk in Buffalo for several days that there will be changes later, and this will probably be the case. The President's cabinet is his official family, his circle of intimate political friends, and so two men have the same circle of friends, political or social. In all our history the cabinet of one President has never served for another. Mr. McKinley and Mr. Roosevelt are widely different characters, and it is not likely that the cabinet of one will exactly suit the other. We may look for changes as soon as Mr. Roosevelt gets fairly seated in the presidential chair, and develops his policy. He is a more aggressive man than Mr. McKinley was, and may be expected to assume a more aggressive policy. He will later gather around him his own circle of advisers and friends, and therefore changes in the cabinet are almost certain to occur. When Tyler became President, he reversed to a large extent the policy of Harrison, and made almost complete changes in the cabinet. President Johnson made the most desperate efforts to get rid of Edward M. Stanton, who was one of Lincoln's most trusted advisers, and when Arthur became President in 1881, there was soon a complete change in the cabinet, and the presidential policy.

Col. H. F. Jones, the convicted forger who was given a place in the revenue service, seems to have become suddenly unpopular, even with the people who appointed him.

A queer case of mistaken identity occurred in connection with the Teague forgery case in Charlotte. A man who gave his name as J. S. Teague called at the post office and received a money order, and cashed it. The next morning another man whose name was J. S. Teague called to get his mail, and it was discovered that the mail had been delivered to the wrong person. Post office detectives went to work on the case, and thought they had traced the crime to an Asheville negro, who answered in almost every particular the description of the man who was wanted. But the Asheville darkey proved that he was waiting in the Battery Park Hotel at the time the forgery occurred, and could not have been in Charlotte. He said, however, that he had a twin brother, who was so much like him that they were constantly taken for each other. The police went to work on this clue, and now, many months after the crime occurred, they have captured the twin brother. The two negroes are said to be so much alike that they cannot be told apart.

The A. and M. College is not only crowded with students, but has turned away more students than all the other colleges together. All the colleges and schools are crowded, and news of good openings comes from every quarter. The State University, Trinity, Wake Forest, Davidson, Elon College, Guilford College, and all the female colleges are crowded with students. There has never been such general interest in education.

The New Hanover county school board will make a demand on the mayor and aldermen of Wilmington for the fines collected which, according to the recent decision of the Supreme Court, belong to the school fund. In Wake county the money is now paid into the school fund, but in a number of counties formal demand has to be made for the amount due the schools.

A number of people will go from North Carolina to Washington to attend the funeral of the late President McKinley. The Governor and all his staff are expected to be present.

A WORTHY SUCCESSOR.

"Something New Under the Sun."
All doctors have tried to cure CATARRH by the use of powders, acid gases, inhalers and drugs in paste form. Their powders dry up the mucous membranes, causing them to crack open and bleed. The powerful acids used in the inhalers have entirely eaten away the same membranes that their makers have aimed to cure, while pastes and ointments cannot reach the disease. An old and experienced practitioner who has for many years made a close study and specialty of the treatment of CATARRH, has at last perfected a Treatment which when faithfully used, not only relieves at once, but permanently cures CATARRH, by removing the cause, stopping the discharges, and curing all inflammation. It is the only remedy known to science that actually reaches the afflicted parts. This wonderful remedy is known as "SNUFFLES the GUARANTEED CATARRH CURE" and is sold at the extremely low price of One Dollar, each package containing internal and external medicine sufficient for a full month's treatment and everything necessary to its perfect use. There is nothing like Asthma. It brings instant relief, even in the worst cases. It cures when all else fails. The Rev. C. F. WELLS, of Villa Ridge, Ill., says: "You trial bottle of Asthmaleone received in good condition. I cannot tell you how thankful I feel for the good derived from it. I was a slave, chained with putrid sore throat and Asthma for ten years. I despaired of ever being cured. I saw your advertisement for the cure of this dreadful and tormenting disease, Asthma, and thought you had overspoken yourselves, but resolved to give it a trial. To my astonishment, the trial acted like a charm. Send me a full-size bottle."

REV. DR. MORRIS WECHSLER, Rabbi of the Cong. Bnai Israel, New York, Jan. 3, 1901. Dr. Taft Bros' Medical Co.: Gentlemen: Your Asthmaleone is an excellent remedy for Asthma and Hay Fever, and its composition alleviates all troubles which combine with Asthma. Its success is astonishing and wonderful. After having it carefully analyzed, we can state that Asthmaleone contains no opium, morphine, chloroform or ether. Very truly yours, REV. DR. MORRIS WECHSLER, Avon Springs, N. Y., Feb. 1, 1901.

Dr. Taft Bros Medicine Co.: Gentlemen: I write this testimonial from a sense of duty, having tested the wonderful effect of your Asthmaleone, the cure of Asthma. My wife has been afflicted with spasmodic asthma for the past 12 years. Having exhausted my own skill as well as many others, I chanced to see your sign upon your windows on 130th street New York. I at once obtained a bottle of Asthmaleone. My wife commenced taking it about the first of November. I very soon noticed a radical improvement. After using one bottle her Asthma has disappeared and she is entirely free from all symptoms. I feel that I can consistently recommend the medicine to all who are afflicted with this distressing disease. Yours respectfully O. D. PHELPS, M. D.

Turner's North Carolina Almanac,

To advertise is simply to make known, who you are, where you are, and what you have to sell. How to do this effectually, and at the smallest possible cost is the problem for you to solve. The failure to obtain desired results from advertising is due to the way some people do it, and they invariably say "It does not pay." The judicious way is to use a medium that has reputation, circulation and permanency. Turner's N.-C. Almanac has been the State Standard for 65 years, has a circulation larger than any other publication in the South, classes of people. Advertisement for a year, reaching all classes of people. The edition for 1902 is now in preparation and will be issued long in advance of the coming year. Only a limited number of advertisements taken. Be sure and secure choice space now.
